Judge Gets Grand Jury Panel List

By SCOTT WILLIAMSON
Staff Writer

Fifty prospective jurors have been selected by the Berrien county jury board to sit on a citizens' grand jury to investigate alleged official corruption and unsolved crimes in Berrien county. The names have been submitted to Presiding Circuit Judge Julian

E. Hughes who will select 17 to be impanelled as the grand jury. He said he will examine the potential jurors for their qualifications to sit on the grand jury on Feb. 24 in closed session.

Berrien Prosecutor John A. Smietanka, who requested the grand jury probe in January, previously said evidence could be presented to the grand jury about a week after jurors are im-panelled. Hughes noted the selection process should only take one day. The 50 names were selected at random last week from jury lists for circuit, probate, and district courts, according to Hughes, and he must now pare the list to 17.

Smietanka, in his petition asking for the grand jury, cited "possible criminal violations by individuals including murder, extortion, arson, official corruption, embezzlement, distribution of controlled substances (narcotics), auto theft, criminal usury (loan-sharking), obstruction of justice and organized gambling." It will be the first time a citizens' grand jury has convened in Berrien county, although three one-man grand juries have conducted investigations in the past.

TAKES QUESTION: President Ford call for question during his news conference Tuesday night in the White House East Room. After announcing reorganization of U.S. intelligence community, he took questions from the audience. (AP Wirephoto)

Intelligence Revamp Will Curb CIA, NSA

WASHINGTON (AP) — The CIA and the National Security Agency will be barred from eavesdropping on conversations to, from or inside the United States under President Ford's intelligence reorganization, according to administration officials.

The Associated Press has learned that guidelines to be issued today also would:

—Ban the infiltration of domestic organizations except those "composed of non-U.S. persons reasonably believed to be acting on behalf of foreign powers;"

—Bar physical surveillance inside the United States of all persons except employees or contractors of intelligence agencies who have access to classified data, and then only with the approval of the agency head;

—Outlaw domestic break-ins entirely; and —Place new restrictions on the disclosure of tax returns by the Internal Revenue Service to other government agencies.

The guidelines do not apply to the FBI, which will be governed by a separate set of directives being drawn up by the Justice Department.

The guidelines come after Ford announced at a nationally broadcast news conference Tuesday night his plans to revamp the foreign intelligence organizations. Those plans will enhance the role of new CIA Director George Bush.

The guidelines would contain a flat prohibition against electronic eavesdropping by the CIA inside the United States, officials said.

The NSA would be barred from surveillance of any conversation "which is made from or is intended by the sender to be received in the United States," according to these same officials. The NSA also would be prohibited from intercepting conversations between American citizens abroad, the officials said.

Ford also is expected to propose legislation that for the first time would require judicial warrants for national security wiretaps and the opening of mail, the officials said.

At the news conference that dwelled on Ford's plans for changes in the control apparatus of U.S. intelligence agencies, the President also:

—Said he sees no foreign policy complications caused by former President Richard M. Nixon's upcoming visit to mainland China.

—Said a Republican substitute for the $6.1-billion public works jobs bill he vetoed last week is "a far better piece of legislation."

—Said he believes the nation has made "substantial progress" toward ending inflation. "When I became President the rate was 12 per cent a year, it's now down around 6," Ford said.

—Asked why he lent "the prestige of your high office to discrimination by golfing at Burning Tree Country Club which excludes women." Ford responded, "There are no federal funds going to Burning Tree."

Ford's plan to reorganize intelligence operations includes:

—A Committee on Foreign Intelligence to manage U.S. intelligence agencies under the chairmanship of Bush;

—A three-member Oversight Board headed by former ambassador Robert D. Murphy to review reports from the inspectors general of the various intelligence agencies; and —An Operations Advisory Group to be the successor of the so-called Ford Committee in directing covert operations.

Ford also said he would send legislation to Congress that "would make it a crime for a government employee who has access to certain highly classified information to reveal that information improperly."

Ford added that he would "also support legislation that would prohibit attempts on the lives of foreign leaders."

Commercial Tag Deadline Approaching

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Owners of commercial vehicles and trailers have been urged to obtain their 1976 Michigan license plates before the "last minute crush" March 1.

Secretary of State Richard Austin said today that many fleet, single commercial vehicles and trailer owners have not purchased their plates.

They are getting an extra day this year, however, because the Feb. 28 — the normal end of sales — falls on a weekend. Sales by mail have ended and all plates must be obtained at secretary of state branch offices.

Hair Dryer Safety Called Better Than Nuclear Plants

By JAMES GERSTENZANG
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The federal safety checks on nuclear reactor controls are less stringent than those governing toasters and hair dryers, according to three engineers who quit their jobs to warn of dangers of nuclear power.

The three, who resigned from middle-level management positions at General Electric's nuclear division on Feb. 2 so they could focus attention on nuclear safety defects, warned today that federal regulations lack any requirement for an independent review of certain nuclear controls.

They made their statement in testimony prepared for the Joint Atomic Energy Committee.

The committee recommended Tuesday that a new sense of urgency be given to developing the latest line in nuclear reactors, the liquid metal fast breeder reactor, which is named for its ability to produce additional nuclear fuel as it produces power.

The panel reported that more research and sound design could resolve safety and environmental questions.

The three former General Electric officials, Dale G. Bridenbaugh, Richard B. Hubbard and Gregory C. Minor, said in their statement, however, that the ability of the Nuclear Regulatory Commission to effectively regulate the nuclear industry is suspect.

"The tremendous cost, schedule and political pressures experienced make unbiased decisions, with true evaluations of the consequences, impossible to achieve," the statement said. "This is the ultimate deficiency of our nuclear program."

The statement said the primary focus of a safety evaluation of 19 operating nuclear plants "has been to 'prove' the plants are safe enough for continued operation, not to openly assess their true safety."

It said that decisions on proceeding with nuclear plants were based on technical inadequacies or insufficient data.

After they resigned, the engineers met with William A. Anders, chairman of the Nuclear Regulatory Commission, and other commission officials. The commission said after the meeting that the engineers' complaints were philosophical and dealt with general safety issues that were under consideration by the commission staff.

Bridenbaugh, involved with nuclear power plants since 1958 and a General Electric employee since 1953, spent the past 10 months on a special project evaluating the safety of 25 nuclear power plants.

Hubbard was responsible for developing and implementing plans assuring that products of the company's nuclear energy control and instrumentation department met federal quality requirements.

Minor was responsible for the design of safety and control systems.

Referring to problems in safety equipment, the engineers said in their congressional statement that Nuclear Regulatory Commission "requirements for safety-related equipment are less stringent" than codes developed in 1911 to protect the public from boiler explosions.

In addition, they said, the commission does not require an independent third party similar to the Underwriters Laboratories, Inc., to evaluate safety-related equipment. Underwriters Laboratories was founded in 1894 to investigate and test electrical appliances.

"The public has a right to know that an electrical appliance, such as a toaster or hair dryer, has more stringent safety checks than the electrical instruments that control a nuclear plant," the statement

Whirlpool Sales Dip But Profits Double

Whirlpool Corporation today reported earnings more than doubled in 1975 while sales dropped.

Whirlpool listed consolidated net earnings of $58,853,000 or $1.63 a share compared to 1974 earnings of $24,946,000 or 69 cents a share.

Consolidated net sales for 1975 were $1,467,566,000 compared to $1,619,969,000 for 1974.

Whirlpool Chairman John Platts stated that the company's improved performance in 1975 compared to 1974 (in which earnings were adversely affected by a strike at the company's major refrigeration production facility in Evansville, Indiana) primarily reflects a lower rate of cost increases and an overall improvement in the revenue/cost relationship achieved through increased prices.

Warwick Electronics Inc., a 57 per cent owned subsidiary, reported a net loss of $8,994,000 for 1975 compared to a net loss of $3,830,000 for 1974. The impact of Warwick's losses on Whirlpool's earnings was 20 cents per share in 1975 and 6 cents per share in 1974.

Warwick results in 1975 were adversely affected by intensified competition from foreign manufacturers and the continuing low consumer demand for color television receivers. The ability of Warwick to achieve sufficiently profitable levels of operations in its television business is expected to be a principal factor in determining whether Warwick will continue in that business.

As previously reported, Whirlpool is engaged in negotiations to sell its interest in Warwick's television business to a television manufacturer. However, no understanding has been reached and there is no assurance that any such transaction will occur. Since such negotiations are in a preliminary stage, it is not possible to predict their outcome or what effect any such sale might have on Warwick's financing or future profitability.

Platts stated that industry shipments of major appliances in 1976 are forecast to increase about 12 to 13 per cent over 1975 levels, and Whirlpool expects to share in this growth.

With A Blast At Lawmen

DETROIT (AP) — With a blast at law enforcement, a Detroit Recorder's Court judge has released the 106-page statement of an admitted narcotics dealer. The statement by Milton "Happy" Battle purports to be a personal history of his career. Judge Justin C. Ravitz released the statement to the news media Tuesday, saying he had no faith that Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley or Wayne County Prosecutor William Cahalan would follow up on Battle's statement in which he outlines his long career in Detroit's drug underworld. Battle pleaded guilty in the recent much-publicized trial of seven civilians and nine police officers accused in a narcotics conspiracy in Detroit's 10th police precinct.

Were it left to me to decide whether we should have government without newspapers or newspapers without government, I should not hesitate to prefer the latter. — Thomas Jefferson.

How To Succeed In Business--Start A Medicaid Laboratory

As the result of a combined search by the Chicago Tribune, Channel 2's "60 Minutes" program and the Better Government Association (Chicago), Congress is learning, hopefully, that it should clean up the abuses in medicare and medicaid before it tackles a national health care insurance program.

The three-way private probe in Chicago started five months ago and is an offshoot of a 1974 investigation by the federal government which in some strange manner never went further than the official announcement it was being launched.

The Tribune-Channel 2-BGA investigating team confined its efforts to the Chicago area. It came up with the astounding revelation that 13 clinical laboratories accounting for 65 per cent of the medicaid business in Illinois make kickbacks to the doctors referring blood, urine and other testing to those establishments.

A Senate Special Committee on Aging expands this racketeering to 21 laboratories performing 80 per cent of the medicaid testing throughout all of Illinois.

Dollarwise, the private probes convert their findings into $3 million of the $10.7 million spent in Illinois as going down the drain by way of kickbacks to the referral physicians, and overcharges and outright fake charges by the laboratories.

Concomittant to their findings is irrefutable evidence that the ethical laboratory refusing to buy this shoddy trade is not doing the business for which it is set up.

Investigations in New York state show that 17 kickback laboratories are doing 70 per cent of the medicaid business. New Jersey is a bit more honest. Twelve shady operators are performing 60 per cent of the referral testing.

Taking the Illinois, New Jersey and New York experiences as a base, the Senate committee is projecting the probability that $45 of the $213 million annually paid out by HEW for medicaid testing is fraudulent or unnecessary. That is a little better than one dollar in five being wasted.

The total amounts could well run higher because medicare and medicaid is a matching fund plan between the federal government and the states. The federal district attorney for the Chicago and northern Illinois area told Channel 2 and the Tribune he suspects the entire ramification of the two Ms might show a $300 million bogus entry in his area.

Belatedly, the Illinois director of public aid suspended 17 doctors and four laboratories from reimbursement once the three-way investigation began to come out in the open. As customary in such circumstances, he promises his own thorough check and rigorous action if further wrongdoing is shown.

His chief, Governor Dan Walker, now running for dear life to be re-elected in November, is crying foul as being the object of a political manipulation. Jim Trainor, his aid director, told the reporters he would like to know where the federal D.A. has been all this time.

While Walker's discomfiture pleases his mortal enemy, Mayor Daly, no end and causes Jim Thompson, the major Republican opponent to the Governor's continued residence in the Springfield statehouse, to smile, the fact remains that the total medicare-medicad program has a sizeable ripoff within it comparable to the disastrous showing by the Federal Housing Administration's irresponsible mortgage lending policies.

A number of gentry without worrying in the least about their partisan political affiliation or lack of it have learned how simple it can be to make money at Uncle Sam's expense.

The galling part of this situation is that while the honest doctor, hospital, laboratory and other medical support units are drowning in the HEW paperwork designed to keep medicare-medicad pure, these agile minds find it no trick whatever to cut the corners.

Equally frustrating and completely indefensible is the seeming inability of the bureaucrats to start looking around for a rattlesnake when they hear a peculiar noise emanating from the shady side of a rock.

This sorry condition is not the only reason the reader groans when he starts to tackle the Form 1040, but it is a mighty big one in its own right.

CITES 'DECLARATION OF INTERDEPENDENCE'

Editor,

"In government — nothing just happens that way —, it was planned that way." (President L. B. Johnson — I think, said this.)

Let's trace current national events which usurp all U.S. citizens believing in the Constitution of the United States of America. (20th century)

The Russian War of 1917 won by Communist factions of which agents were already rooted in U.S.A., all began in 1848 when Carl Marx and Frederick Engels' Communist manifesto was read by the world's people. No nation not yet having been subjected to the heinousness of Communism, has completely escaped. Our nation's strength has forced the Communists conquest from within method.

Americans — for posterity's sake wake up — July 4th 1976 was to have been the take over date of Communism in our country.

Proof of this statement is everywhere — you must check it out. Write the politician of your choice — ask that person what Hon. Marjorie S. Holt of Maryland had said to the 'House speaker' (House of Representatives, Washington, D.C.) on Monday Jan. 19, 1976. If your representative answers your letter without candid facts — let him know you will do everything possible to get other house members (by 2/3rds vote) to expel that person.

If you write, the answer should refer to — an insidious plot to throw out our Constitution and replace our 200 year old Constitution with a new Constitution; an insidious plot to introduce, a new document, 'A Declaration of Interdependence'.

Article 1, section 5, (Constitution of Sept. 13, 1788 U.S.A.) says "Each house shall keep a journal..." Hon. M. S. Holt's statements can be gleaned for proof.

American citizens — the platform of any politician eager to get my vote will have to have the guts to clean out the agent provocateurs from all our United States of America.

"We the People of the United States," the last hope of the free world, are feeding that malignancy which will consume us.

Please — get off your butt — get involved. In China (1945-1950) 64,000,000 people were slaughtered by the very things I speak of here.

Treason, in my opinion, should by law, be punished by death or by ostracism.

TRIBUTE PAID TO EMERY D. CHAUNCEY

Editor,

The Officers and Members of the Board of Directors of our Association will appreciate your printing of the following item at your earliest convenience.

The Officers and Members of the St. Joseph River Improvement Association wish to extend, publicly, our deepest sympathy to the wife and family of Emery D. Chauncey in the loss of their husband and father, and our Association's President for the past several years. His untiring efforts to preserve the natural beauty and ecology of the St. Joseph river and it's adjacent areas, will be missed by all of our members, as well as the many local citizens who also have a deep concern for the preservation of Southwest Michigan's most scenic waterway.

As many people already know, long before his retirement to our Michigan area, Emery was in close cooperation with his father, Jesse Chauncey, in the Association's long, hard battle, starting in 1938, to clean up the Sewage infested river from it's source to it's termination in the St. Joseph-Benton Harbor, Lake Michigan area. The final court decisions requiring all industrial and commercial sewage wastes, previously discharged directly into the river, to be treated and eliminated before any direct disposal of the final effluent into the river, resulted in the eventual clearing of the river waters to a point where today we enjoy a clean, healthful waterway.

Upon his retirement to our area in 1971, he again became

Do You REMEMBER?

The landmarks that have reflected St. Joseph's main business district operations for a century are being razed this week, leaving only memories for old timers to ponder. The 100 block on State street, bounded by State, Port, Main and Ship streets is to be leveled to provide the start for a modernization project. Most of the buildings now being razed were constructed around the 1890's.

The Benton Harbor-St. Joseph council of Boy Scouts has completed the purchase of the Madron Lake camp site, which has been held under option for the past six months. A total price of $1,900 is to be paid for 30 acres with a frontage of 2,000 feet on Madron lake. Twenty acres are covered with woods and the property immediately surrounding, about 400 acres, is also in timber. Homer Harper, local architect, is working on plans for a mess hall to be built before summer camp opens. It will take care of 150 boys. It is planned to build the main part this year and add, as circumstances permit, porches and living quarters for the cook. The building will also provide quarters for winter camping parties. Wooden platforms for tents will also be built.

Death's Gray Land Citizens

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — British playwright Thomas Southern advised us about the fate of soldiers: "They are but ambition's tools, to cut away to her unlawful ends; and when they are worn, hacked, hewn with constant service, thrown aside to rot in hospitals."

Another English author, Siegfried Sasson, called warriors "citizens of death's gray land."

Still, there are those who are drawn to the adventures of militarism, and some few actually prefer war to peace for personal gratification. The latest evidence of this ignorance is the sudden emergence of sundry organizations and individuals whose aim it is to recruit mercenaries for the fighting in Angola.

Some of the mercenaries insist they are motivated by higher reasons than macho. Pierre Walt, who has a mercenary group he calls The World Wide Geese Assn., located in Newark, Ohio, says he loves his country "and am willing to die for it, in Angola or anywhere else." How does one die for America in Angola? Walt says if the Russians are not stopped there, they will be in Panama soon, then in Mexico, finally in California.

Other mercenaries are more pragmatic than Walt. A chap recruiting soldiers of fortune here in Washington is promising enlistees $1,500 a month salary plus $500 a month for expenses. He adds only reluctantly that mercenaries will not be paid until their hitch ends, which means of course that if their side loses there will not be anyone left to write out the paychecks.

Whatever their inspirations, mercenaries in the United States must go about their business with stealth usually reserved for throat-cutting, long-range reconnaissance patrols. Enlisting in foreign armies is a federal crime, according to sections of Title 18 of the U.S. Code, and so secrecy is the posture. Which of course makes the whole thing ever so much more fun for these fellows.

As might be expected, warrior Walt is against the laws which prohibit his enterprise. He says he finds it queer that the United States will look the other way when American Jews are recruited to fight in Israel, but sternly objects if American blacks want to fight in Angola. Actually, the United States is not all that stern about the matter, a State Department officer saying he can't remember anyone ever being prosecuted for violation of foreign service prohibitions. Nonetheless, Walt does have a point: What business is it of the United States if he or any other fuzzy wants to drop a limb in the jungles of Angola?

After all, Walt has America at heart, he says. He says further that mercenaries could well be back-door heroes in Angola, saving the nation so that one day ~~La~~anda could be developed up, ever up, until it was just like Kansas City, and all this without any official U.S. involvement.

Perhaps the mercenaries should be encouraged. Perhaps it could be arranged for them to fight all wars from now on. There are millions of draft-prone people in the world today who feel "better than us."

Joke Losing Its Punch

WASHINGTON (KFS) — The joke isn't over yet, but it is losing its punch.

That overcrowded Democratic presidential field which has been the subject of so many gags is beginning to shake down, even though the first primary is yet to be held.

The system, it appears, is functioning after all. By the time of the New York primary on April 6, only the sixth in the nation, the serious presidential field should be down to a very candidates.

Sen. Lloyd Bentsen became the second contender to abandon a national candidacy last week, after he was unable to muster any strength in two Southern state caucuses. Former North Carolina Gov. Terry Sanford had withdrawn earlier, due to financial difficulties.

Other Democrats in the race have also indicated that if they fare badly in the early primaries they will bow out. At the moment, it appears the candidate most likely to come in last in the New Hampshire primary on February 24 is former 1972 vice presidential nominee Sargent Shriver. If indeed he trails the pack there and in the Massachusetts primary one week later, he is expected to pull out of the contest.

According to reliable sources, Rep. Morris Udall and Sen. Frank Church — who has not yet announced but is planning to do so in March — have privately discussed the possibility of merging their support. A Church adviser says Udall promised that if he did poorly in the early primaries he would pull out and throw his support to Church. A Udall adviser says the conversation was the other way around, with Church promising to throw his support to Udall if Udall appears strong in the early primaries.

Uncertainty about campaign financing may hasten the demise of some presidential candidates. Candidates who have counted on matching Federal funds, and have therefore spent their current resources, will suddenly be in dire trouble if Congress fails to breathe new life into the Federal Election Commission or provide some other legal and responsible system of disbursing the funds.

Gov. Milton Shapp and West Virginia Sen. Robert Byrd are little more than favorite sons. There will be a few other favorite sons, also, but no one confuses them with the serious candidates.

Thus it is quite realistic — and reassuring — to expect that by early spring there will be only a handful of Democratic candidates left in the race. Once the number has been reduced, voters can begin to pay attention to each individually and that in turn might spark new interest in the election, which thus far has been marked chiefly by indifference.

Reducing the presidential field to three or perhaps four serious contenders should also reduce the possibility of a deadlocked convention, by making it easier for one or two men to put it together.

Six Area Policemen Are Honored For Outstanding Service

By RALPH LUTZ
Staff Writer

The Benton Harbor Exchange club observed National Crime Prevention Week by presenting 1975 Outstanding Performance plaques to six Twin Cities area police officers during a noon luncheon Tuesday.

The recipients range from a 23-year-old Benton township patrolman with less than two years experience to a veteran Benton Harbor lieutenant with a quarter-century service. All earned recommendations for the award from their superior officers. They are:

Benton Harbor Lt. Hollis (Jack) Weatherly, St. Joseph Det. Lt. Tom Cooper, Benton township Patrolman Kim Fowler, St. Joseph township Patrolman Thomas Yops, Berrien Sheriff's Deputy Fred Schaub, and State Trooper Michael Boone of the Benton Harbor post.

Fowler, 23, is the youngest. He joined the Benton township police department May 20, 1974.

Township Police Chief Joe Sieber described events of last Dec. 14 when Fowler shot and killed a burglary suspect on a rooftop at Fairplain Plaza after first firing two warning shots.

Sieber said Fowler was off duty that night and earlier had gone to Benton Harbor to assist when Berrien Sheriff's Deputy Russ Brumbaugh was shot and wounded after stopping a motorist. The Fairplain Plaza alarm then came and Fowler went there to help.

Lt. Weatherly, 48, joined the Benton Harbor police department in April, 1951 and has served meritoriously in all areas of police work, reported Capt. Harold Harris.

Weatherly presently is not connected directly to beat patrol duties, but Harris said he's just as fast in the records and services department he heads. "Jack can find any record in seconds from among thousands on file," Harris commented.

Trooper Boone, 28, is more than a police officer — he's an avid sportsman, scuba diver and uses plenty of off-duty hours to talk to civic groups, churches and Scout organizations, reported Lt. Carl Hulander, post commander.

Boone has been a trooper for seven years, serving two years at Mount Pleasant and then coming to Benton Harbor.

Det. Lt. Cooper, 43, has served the St. Joseph department for 23 years and is in the opinion of Chief Thomas Gillespie, "a skilled investigator who has completed all courses in police work, including the FBI National Academy." The chief also reminded of Cooper's keen sense of humor.

Besides police duties, Cooper instructs criminal investigation in the Lake Michigan college police training program.

Patrolman Yops, 30, was credited by St. Joseph township Police Chief Keith Mills for training the department's new auxiliary force. Mills said Yops asked about safety of citizens who were riding voluntarily with patrolmen.

Mills said Yops was told to do something about it. As a result, the St. Joseph township board of trustees recently deputized an auxiliary force. Yops joined the township department after two years each with the Berrien sheriff's department and Coloma township police department.

Deputy Schaub, 30, joined the sheriff's department in 1972. He has received praise from all shift leaders for hard and skillful work, especially in gathering facts that stand up in court.

Schaub was introduced by Under Sheriff Edward Sanderia who said Schaub is an excellent scuba diver and has been an asset to the department through presentations to schools and other groups.

Police Pay Hike Granted, Disputes Continue At BH Commission Meeting

The Benton Harbor city commission last night approved a two-year contract with the Benton Harbor Patrolmen's association that gives patrolmen pay hikes amounting to 9 per cent a year. Details on Page 16.

Last night's meeting also was marked by continued disputes between Mayor Charles Joseph, Commissioner Charles Yarbrough and City Atty. Yvonne Hughes, who earlier this month said proposed $25,000 annual salary for the mayor is improper. Details on Page 28.

WILL CHECK PROGRESS

Recall Group To Meet Tonight

A tally of signatures on Benton Harbor recall petitions will be made tonight at 7:30 at Columbus school, according to Maurice Bishop, leader of the recall drive against Mayor Charles Joseph and four city commissioners.

Bishop said the public is invited to the meeting where petitions may be signed or picked up for distribution. Petitions also will be delivered for people to sign if they call 925-4384, Bishop said.

At a recall rally last week, Morgan Hager, a recall leader announced the following number of signatures are required on various petitions:

— 651 each for recall of Joseph and Commissioner-at-large Barbara Huckaby; 140 for Second Ward Commissioner Charles Shepherd; 263 for Third Ward Commissioner Winston Minott; 109 for Fourth Ward Commissioner Alfred Williams.

Only registered voters in the respective wards may sign petitions for recall of a ward commissioner. Any registered voter in the city may sign for recall of Joseph and Mrs. Huckaby.

The recall campaign is directed against commissioners who voted not to renew the contract of Charles A. Morrison as city manager.

WHAT'S BEST FOR BENTON?: Benton township hall was packed by standing room crowd of some 80 citizens who debated whether social programs or capital improvements should dominate $1,022,000 second-year Community Development program.

Proposed budget emphasizes physical improvements. Second public hearing will be 7:30 p.m. next Tuesday, in township hall. (Staff photo)

BENTON DEVELOPMENT PLAN

Hearing Crowd Favors Services

Benton township's proposed $1,022,000 second-year Community Development program calls for spending more than $500,000 to rehabilitate houses and relocate families, $200,000 for streets, sidewalks and sewers—and $54,000 for social services.

The plan was detailed last night during a public hearing, attended by a standing room crowd of some 80 people, whose applause was mostly for advocates of more social services outlays.

About a dozen people called for more money to support senior citizen projects and child day care centers.

Three favored capital improvements as the answer to the township's needs.

Both sides, however, tended to agree that another $109,200 to administer the program is too much.

The hearing is the first of two conducted by the board of trustees. The second hearing was scheduled for 7:30 p.m. next Tuesday, at the Benton township hall.

Judd Spray, township Community Development director, said the final proposal must be submitted by March 5 to the governor's office and Southwestern Michigan Regional Planning commission. After review, the township must send the proposal to the federal Department of Housing and Urban Development by April 8.

The plan calls for most rehabilitation work in an area adjoining the eastern limit of the City of Benton Harbor. The area is bounded roughly by Fair avenue on the west, Crystal avenue on the east, a line just south of Highland on the south and Ross field and Territorial road on the north.

The plan calls for acquiring a park site for $15,000 to serve this area.

Major budget items are: Loans and grants to rehabilitate 59 houses, $354,000; relocation assistance to 24 families, $156,000; street paving, storm sewers, sidewalks, $200,000; demolition of 19 derelict houses, $19,000; senior citizens center, $21,500; child care center, $27,500; and CanAmer Games, $5,000.

George Culverhouse, a member of the Benton township planning commission, said perhaps $500,000 should be spent on drainage and streets. Culverhouse also commented that he believes $109,200 for administrative services is excessive.

Silas Legg, chairman of the Community Development Citizens' Advisory Board (CDCA) said his group received the final proposed plan only last Saturday. Legg asked whether the citizen group was needed or not. He also questioned rehabilitation in a portion of Fairplain and the North Shore area under the first year program, when other areas are in worse shape. Legg favored more social programs but noted that the township board must make the final decision.

Legg also called administrative costs too high, adding that more surveys are called for when surveys already have been taken in the past.

Frank Larson, a member of the citizens' advisory group, supported capital improvements, but said he was misquoted in this newspaper

Feb. 14 by a statement he was opposed to social programs. Larson told the hearing he is not opposed to social programs, but thinks many are overlapping and duplicating services.

Among citizens who spoke for more social programs were Cecilia Burke, Betty Smith, Annabelle Bankston, and Gertrude Gavin, all active in various social programs.

The second Community Development program year is scheduled to begin June 21 and run through June 20, 1977, Spray said. He said rehabilitation under a separate $781,000 grant for the first year would continue.

Crash Victim

EDGERTON, Wis. (AP) — Albert T. Hemenway, 76, of rural Milton died Tuesday when pinned beneath a wrecker truck while trying to haul another vehicle from Lake Koshkonong two miles east of here, authorities said.

YOUNG COMMISSIONERS: Barbara Powell and Roger Lang, youth representatives appointed by Benton Harbor city commission, were seated at first meeting last night. Asked by commission for comment at end of meeting, Lang said he would like to see "better behavior and language by all city officials" which he said would "set a better example for our city's youth." They may comment on issue but do not have voting power. Lang, 21, lives at 615 East Main street, and Miss Powell is 19 and lives at 297 Second street. (Staff photo)

Benton Grants 10-Year Cable TV Franchise

Benton township last night became the first Twin Cities area government unit to approve a long-term cable television franchise. The trustees at their regular meeting also joined the township planning commission by going on record opposing a Lake Michigan shoreline protection device (groin) for Herbert Mendel, 1600 Rocky Gap road.

By a unanimous vote, the board granted a 10-year non-exclusive cable television franchise to Benton Township Cable TV, Inc., a Kalamazoo-based firm headed by Earl Drake. The agreement calls for review in five years and the franchise may be revoked by the board, if all conditions of the contract are not met.

Drake is to start engineering work within 90 days, begin actual installation within two months after that, and begin operating 90 days after the start of installation work.

Approval was a breakthrough for Drake, who has tried twice without success to put cable television in Benton Harbor under a firm called Benton Harbor Cable TV, Inc. The Benton Harbor city charter calls for a two-thirds majority of voters in an election, which has not been received.

Benton township does not require a referendum on franchises such as cable television.

The Benton agreement calls for 19 channels now, with 12 later on, and installation of equipment for a township local station. One channel is for use by Benton Harbor Area schools. Installation fee is $20, followed by monthly rates up to $5.95.

Trustees acted on a resolution regarding Mendel's partially installed groin after learning that the Army Corps of Engineers was again processing a permit. Details of how work began without permit approval were reported in the newspaper earlier. The resolution opposing the groin was approved unanimously.

The board also: Accepted appraisals of $17,800 and $15,750 respectively on houses formerly used as neighborhood centers at 979 Waukonda and 1655 Highland, and agreed to offer the houses for sale, pending approval by the electorate at the annual meeting.

Voted to open a passbook savings account at Farmers and Merchants National bank, Benton Harbor, to deposit current tax collections, with interest going to the general fund.

Approved a $349 trip by Fire Chief Kenneth Kraiger, who plans to attend a national fire instruction meeting March 16-19, at Memphis, Tenn.

RACING: Bertram D. Smucker, assistant executive director of CARE, gestures Tuesday in New York as he emphasizes that volunteers and villagers in Guatemala are racing against arrival of the rainy season. Smucker said there is a fighting chance to get emergency housing finished for the more than a million homeless victims of the earthquake that ravaged the tiny Central American nation.

Announce Chairmen

NARRATORS: Gertrude Johnson, right, chairman for the 1976 Blossomtime fashion show, and her co-chairman, Kay Molica, will also act as narrators for the annual event which will be held Wednesday, May 5. (Staff photo)

Gertrude Johnson has been named chairman of the Blossomtime fashion show, "Fashions Fit For A Queen," Don Young, president of Blossomtime, Inc., announced today.

Her co-chairman for the past two years, Kay Molica, will again serve in that capacity, Young says.

The fashion show which will feature the Blossom queens as models, will be held Wednesday, May 5, at 8 p.m. at Shadowland ballroom, St. Joseph.

Mrs. Johnson has served either as chairman or co-chairman of the fashion show since 1968.

She is also secretary of Blossomtime, Inc. board of directors and previously served eight years as chairman of the Bridgman Blossomtime pageant.

She is currently junior director for the Michigan Federation of Women's clubs, director for Girls' Town and Project Hope, member of the Berrien County Federation of Women's clubs board of election and founder of the Bridgman Literary ball. She is also a past president of Club Twenty and the Southgate Service League, both Bridgman organizations.

She and her husband own and operate Bill's Tap and Restaurant in Baroda. They live at 5600 Dunham lane, Stevensville.

Mrs. Molica and her husband, Philip, reside in Niles. She is president of Niles Blossomtime, Inc., and was general chairman for the Miss Niles pageant this year.

She is a member of the board of directors for the Niles-Buchanan YMCA where she is program director and teaches charm classes. She is also a member of an honorary member of Beta Sigma Phi sorority in Niles.

'Quit Smoking' Program Set

BANGOR — A five-day plan for smokers who want to break the habit will be held at Bangor high school cafeteria beginning Sunday, Feb. 22, from 7:15 to 9 p.m.

The group therapy plan is free to the public and is sponsored by Seventh-day Adventist churches.

Dr. LeVan Mapes, Fennville dentist, and Pastor Stuard Snyder of the Covert and Bangor Seventh-day Adventist churches, will be in charge of the counseling sessions.

The five-day plan incorporates films, medical talks and a daily personal control program for home or work. All of the latest revealed risks from birth defects and polluted air dangers to bystanders will be covered.

Psychological and physical aspects of smoking will be dealt with as well as how cravings can be lessened and will power increased. A buddy system is also used to avert between session battles.

One film will be shown each of the first four sessions. They include "Countdown," a film on cancer surgery; "Time Pulls the Trigger;" "Beyond Reasonable Doubt" and "I'm Sorry, Baby."

COMMUNITY CONCERTS PRODUCTION 'La Boheme' Thrills Audience

By SAN DEE WALLACE
Staff Writer

Once again, the Canadian Opera Company has thrilled a twin city audience.

The company presented Puccini's universally appealing opera, "La Boheme," Monday night at Lakeshore high school under the auspices of Community Concerts Association of Southwestern Michigan.

It was the second time the company has performed here before a near capacity crowd. The company presented "Cosi Fanutte" here in 1973 as part of the Community Concerts association season.

Puccini's opera has received testimonials through the years and its performance by the Canadian Opera Company also deserves raves and testimonials.

The cast members were magnificent and the orchestra was superb.

Watching the opera is like eavesdropping on the Bohemians in their garret studio in Paris before the turn of the century. They are a gallant band of romantics, ardent, laughter-loving poets, painters and indigent philosophers.

The opera reaches the hearts of the audience because of its simplicity and depth of feeling.

John Arab as the poet Rodolfo earned the audience's admiration soon after the opera began with the famous narrative speaking about himself to Mimì, whom he had just met.

Barbara Collier as Mimì won the viewers' hearts with her autobiographical description and when the scene ended with the famous ardent love duet, the audience was enraptured.

the Cafe Momus for a Christmas Eve celebration.

Lynn Blaser as Musetta was enchanting as she sang the familiar and infectious waltz to taunt her estranged lover, Marcello, portrayed convincingly by Peter Barcza.

Phil Stark portrayed Musetta's wealthy beau, Alcindoro, with flair.

Stark and John Arab were among the cast members who appeared here in "Cosi Fan Tutte."

In the next act, two years later, Rodolfo and Mimì realized they had come to a parting of the ways and poignantly, Mimì bade farewell to her lover in a moving aria.

Marcello and Musetta were also in trouble again and the quartet reflected the different emotional responses of the two pairs of lovers, Rodolfo and Mimì, sadly and in pain, and Marcello and Musetta with fire and defiance.

In the final scene, Rodolfo and Marcello pined for their lost loves in a beautiful duet when Musetta arrived with the news that Mimì was terribly sick.

Musetta brought her back to the attic and tenderly Mimì was placed on Rodolfo's bed.

The emotions the cast evoked from the audience were at their highest peak and with the duet of Rodolfo and Mimì in the death scene, the opera arrived at its tragic climax — Mimì's death.

In addition to the four principals, excellent performances were given by Ronald Bermingham as Colline, the philosopher; James Anderson as Schaunard, the music teacher; Peter Milne, as Benoit, the landlord; Barney Ingram as Monsieur Pargpignol, the cafe owner, and Michele Strano, head waiter.

The performance was greatly enhanced by the touring orchestra under the baton of Errol Gay, music director of the company.

The company deserves many accolades for its production and the high calibre of the performers.

Craft Impact Day

Artists demonstrating early American handcrafts will be the highlight of craft impact day at E.P. Clarke school, St. Joseph, Thursday, Feb. 19.

Artists will work in the school during the morning, giving the students an opportunity to watch them undertake such crafts as quilting, wood-carving, musket making, potting, spinning and natural dying.

Several classrooms will hold an open house to show what they have been doing to celebrate the Bicentennial.

The St. Joseph high school dramatics class, under the direction of Betty Theisen, will present a colonial play in the afternoon.

Serving on the luncheon committee honoring the guests will be Mrs. Robert (Joanne) Palmer, Mrs. Kent (Louise) Morris, Mrs. James (Mary Ann) Adent, Mrs. Samuel (Bernice) Caropepe, Mrs. Philip (Constance) Nuccio and Mrs. Cooper (Gwen) Jackson.

Some New Ideas For Apple Juice

Apple juice served plain is a naturally good refreshing drink at any meal or at any time of day. It provides quick energy without the empty calories of soft drinks and tastes delicious.

But that's only the beginning. Few juices are so versatile and adaptable to so many recipes and unusual ideas.

Lorene Freeman, home economist, has developed several new recipes for apple juice. For a refreshing drink, she recommends that you combine a quart of apple juice with two cups grape juice and one-fourth cup lime juice. Pour over ice in six tall glasses.

Here are three party ideas. Stir apple juice into a spicy red dip for shrimp. For a sour cream dip, just mix apple juice with sour cream and finely chopped herbs.

Here's an easy spread. Mash liverwurst. Beat in enough apple juice to make it spreadable. Serve with crackers.

As an appetizer or non-alcoholic cocktail, serve apple juice chilled, garnished with a wedge of lemon or lime, an orange slice, hunk or spear of pineapple, strawberry or cherry.

Freeze apple juice until mushy. Serve in a small bowl, topped with sour cream for an easy Italian granita.

Apple juice can be the start of a naturally healthful instant breakfast. Blend a cupful with a banana and an egg for a few seconds and it's ready. A tablespoon of gelatin may be substituted for the egg.

When making gelatin, substitute apple juice for water. Try this with lemon, orange, raspberry or banana gelatin. Top with whipped cream. It gives your gelatin dessert extra flavor and vitamins.

Thicken apple juice with cornstarch and cool. Fold into your whipped toppings, along with finely chopped fruits and nuts for an elegant parfait dessert.

Substitute apple juice for water or your usual liquids in corn muffins, biscuits, bread, rolls, pancakes or waffles.

To make pancake syrup, add a little lemon juice to apple juice and thicken with cornstarch.

Try beating a little apple juice into an omelet for extra flavor.

Poach fish fillets in apple juice and heat ham slices in apple juice for tangy smokehouse flavor.

Apple juice can liven up salads, too. Mix equal parts with mayonnaise for a delicious dressing for fruit, ham, chicken or turkey salads.

Twin City Players

By ANITA SMITH
Staff Writer

Three newcomers to Twin City Players' stage combine their talents with veteran performers in Players' current production, "And Miss Reardon Drinks a Little."

Performances will again be given Friday through Sunday, Feb. 20-22, at the Studio Theater, Red Arrow highway at the I-94 overpass, Stevensville. Curtain time is 8 p.m. Friday and Saturday and 7 p.m. Sunday.

The adult drama features three sisters who have grown up in a house of women dominated by their mother who has recently died. The play deals with the tortured relationship of the three sisters — Bette Davis as Catherine Reardon; Karen Wheeler, Cell Adams; and Beth Dumdie, Anna Reardon.

Bette Davis is outstanding as the sister who has begun to imbibe more Manhattans that she should. She expertly delivers the author's often times lengthy and wordy lines.

Karen Wheeler gives an excellent performance in her first appearance on the Player's stage by portraying the sister that married and cut herself off from the rest of the family.

Beth Dumdie gives her usual "all" to her delivery as the sister on the brink of madness after a scandalous incident at the school where she teaches.

Brightening up the biting and touching drama is newcomer Shawne F. Cryderman portraying Fleur Stein, a loud flamboyant woman with a non-stop mouth and an insatiable appetite.

Bob Stein, the other half of the flashy couple, is expertly played by David Abbey.

Others appearing in the cast are Kathy Myers as Mrs. Pen-trano, a cosmetics selling neighbor, and Michael G. Moyer, the delivery boy.

"And Miss Reardon Drinks a Little," was written by Paul Zindel who also wrote the Pulitzer prize winning play, "The Effect of Gamma Rays on Man-in-the-Moon Marigolds."

The play is being directed by Lee Maickel who has been involved in more than 50 Twin City Player productions.

Tryouts For Musical

Auditions for Twin City Players final production of the season, "Stop the World, I Want to Get Off," will be held Sunday, Feb. 22, at 2 p.m. and Monday, Feb. 23, at 7:30 p.m., according to Courtney Johnson, producer.

Auditions for the Anthony Newley and Leslie Bricusse musical will be held at the Studio Theater, Red Arrow highway at the I-94 overpass, Stevensville.

Tryouts are open to the public. The roles will include one man, one boy and ten women. All but the boy's are singing roles.

Performance dates for the musical are April 1-4 and 8-11, according to Mrs. Johnson.

Mrs. Johnson, Twin City Players president, directed "Prisoner of Second Avenue" and played the lead role in "The Effect of Gamma Rays on Man-in-the-Moon Marigolds," during last year's season.

Special Leap Year Dinner For Two

'RING' IN THE LEAP YEAR

Although it may be overshadowed by the Bicentennial, let it be noted that this year is Leap Year.

Observance dates back to the

Sausage Stuffed Cabbage

Ways to prepare cabbage are endless.

Every nationality has its favorite. French like it shredded with apple slices to go with duck. Scandinavians stuff whole head with ground meat, tie in cheese cloth, simmer in bouillon until tender, served with Bechamel sauce.

Italians use it shredded in Minestrone Soup, Swiss serve it as sauerkraut with sausages, Armenians serve sauerkraut with lamb stew. Dutch combine pig knuckles and sauerkraut, Russians make sauerkraut soup.

For a tasty dinner treat, try this French country style dish.

SAUSAGE STUFFED CABBAGE (Chou Farci)

One large cabbage
One and one-half pounds mild Italian sausage
Two onions, peeled, sliced
One tablespoon butter
Four carrots, peeled, cut two inches
Two turnips, quartered
One-half pound fresh peas, shelled (about three-fourths cup)

Parboil cabbage in one inch boiling salted water for seven minutes; drain, cool slightly. Place sausage in saucepan, cover with water, bring to boil, let simmer for 10 minutes; drain reserving two cups liquid. Cool sausage slightly, peel off casing and crumble.

Starting at the center of cabbage, working toward outer leaves stuff with sausage. Reshape cabbage to its original size, tie firmly with string.

Using large soup kettle, saute onions in butter until limp and golden brown. Push to the sides of pan, add the stuffed cabbage, surround with carrots and turnips. Pour in reserved two cups stock, sprinkle with thyme. Cover, simmer one and one-half to two hours, until tender when pierced with a fork. Add peas, simmer five minutes longer. Carefully transfer to a heated platter, remove string, surround with vegetables. Pour pan juices into a small pitcher, skim fat, serve alongside. Cut cabbage into wedges. Serves six to eight.

Add Fruit To Salad

Half fill chilled salad bowl with shredded iceberg lettuce. Top with generous slices fresh nectarines, then strips of chicken or ham and cheese. Serve with well seasoned oil-vinegar dressing zipped up with chopped green chile.

fifth century. It was eventually taken so seriously in 1228 that Scotland passed a law that if a gentleman refused a lady's proposal during Leap Year, he must pay her a pound in forfeit — unless he happened to be engaged to someone else.

In keeping with the spirit of Leap Year, when the initiative is clearly on the woman's side, here is a suggestion for a delicious, simple-to-make dish, called quite appropriately Ring in the Leap Year. It will make a perfect dinner for two, when entertaining that special man.

The ring is made with a basic meat loaf mixture with unexpected surprises. For instance, the meat loaf, which has corn in it for extra heartiness, is flavored with a delicious onion-mushroom mix. This same convenient mix is also used to make a rich, mouth-watering gravy in just five minutes time.

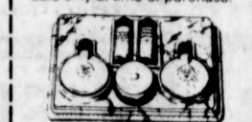

When the ring is finally served covered in a coat of fluffy mashed potatoes and shredded cheese with the luscious gravy poured over it, what man wouldn't agree that one good ring deserves another!

Saturated Fats Need Watching

Heart Month

Fond mothers used to think that cooking with love meant cooking with plenty of butter, sugar, cream and egg yolk and serving hearty portions of richly marbled meats.

But there's been a slow dietary revolution in this country. Americans have long been conscious of the health hazards of overeating and the cosmetic disadvantages of overweight. So calories have had their share of consideration in planning the good diet.

Then in the 1960's evidence began to pile up that it was not just the total calories that could bear watching, but that a diet rich in highly saturated fats could endanger heart health. In fact, overindulgence in rich foods and taking in too many calories add up to the malnutrition of affluence — the most serious nutrition problem where food is plentiful.

Excessive caloric intake and overconsumption of saturated fats and cholesterol appear to contribute in an important way to the most serious health problem of all affluent countries, coronary heart disease.

Now more and more people are planning diets moderate in calories, low in saturated fat and cholesterol with desirable polyunsaturates replacing some of the saturates. It is the new way to show loving concern for the entire family.

During this heart month why not promise yourself and your heart, that you will get into the habit of planning at least one low cholesterol meal a month.

These new recipes prove that low cholesterol doesn't have to be blah.

SAUCED FISH FILLETS WITH WALNUTS

pounds frozen fillet of sole or flounder

Salt and black pepper
Three tablespoons margarine
One tablespoon flour
One cup clam juice
One-half teaspoon salt
Two tablespoons prepared yellow mustard
One-fourth cup chopped walnuts

Thaw and thoroughly drain fish. Season with salt and pepper. Melt two tablespoons of the margarine in saucepan; blend in flour until smooth. Add clam juice, salt and mustard. Cook until thickened, stirring constantly.

Roll up fish, jelly roll style and place, seam-side down, in shallow casserole. Spoon sauce over fish. Dot with one tablespoon margarine and sprinkle with walnuts. Bake at 400 degrees for 15 to 20 minutes, until fish flakes easily when pierced with a fork. Makes four to six servings.

BAKED FISH MEDITERRANEAN

One tablespoon margarine
One and one-half to two pounds frozen fish fillets
Salt and black pepper
One-fourth cup dry white wine
One-fourth cup water
One tomato, chopped
Two tablespoons prepared yellow mustard
Lemon slices

Melt margarine in large skillet. Season fish with salt and pepper. Roll up, jelly roll style and place, seam-side down, in skillet with margarine. Stir in wine, clam juice, tomato and mustard. Simmer, uncovered, 10 to 15 minutes, turning occasionally and spooning sauce over fish, until fish flakes easily when pierced with a fork. Garnish with lemon. Makes four to six servings.

SUKIYAKI

One cup bouillon or consommé
Three tablespoons soy sauce
Six tablespoons corn oil
One and one-half pounds lean round steak, thinly sliced
One and one-half cups diagonally sliced celery
One and one-half medium-size onions, sliced
Three-fourths pound mushrooms, sliced
Three-fourths pound fresh spinach
Hot cooked rice
Mix bouillon and soy sauce. Heat three tablespoons of corn oil in large electric skillet or wok. Add half the meat and cook, turning frequently, until browned. Add half the soy sauce mixture, then push meat to one side of pan.

Add half of the celery, onions and mushrooms, keeping each vegetable separate; cook, turning frequently, three to four minutes. Add half of the spinach and cook one to two minutes longer. Serve immediately with rice and sauce from pan. Repeat cooking process using remaining ingredients; serve immediately. Makes four servings.

'Your Problems' By Ann Landers

'Beer Drunk' Needs Help

Dear Ann Landers: I've never heard of another grown man with the problem my husband has. We've got to find a solution before I go mad.

He's well thought of in the community and successful in business. He stops frequently after working late and has a few beers. He says it's never over six or seven although I'm sure when he and his buddies get to talking, nobody bothers to keep count.

Then he comes home (not really drunk but feeling good) and goes to bed for a while — and this is the problem. He gets up to go to the bathroom, only he doesn't quite make it even though the bathroom is only five feet from his side of the bed.

In his sleepy, beery state, he proceeds to relieve himself, usually in the corner all over the carpet, or between the bed and the bathroom by his chest-of-drawers. Last night was the worst yet. The chest of drawers was open and he soaked his socks and T-shirts.

I've tried getting mad. I've also tried appealing to his sense of pride. Nothing helps. It just keeps on happening. Any advice? — His Wife

Dear Wife: Your in-house sprinkler system has a deeper problem than the one you are complaining about. It is called alcoholism. The guy is a beer drunk. If you want to continue to live with him in peace, join Al-Anon and learn how. Look in the phone book or contact Alcoholics Anonymous for more information.

Tragic Ending

Dear Ann: Recently you printed a letter from a young girl whose boyfriend broke up with her every three weeks and asked for all his gifts back. He sounds so much like the sick, immature boy I married, I had to write.

After a year of fighting, breaking up, returning all his presents and making up again, we finally got married. Then, every time we had an argument he'd move out and take the TV, stereo, camera equipment, etc. A few days later he'd move back in with all the stuff. I'm sure the neighbors questioned our sanity.

The end of my story is tragic. Last year I killed him with a loaded handgun we kept lying around in case someone broke in.

Please warn all young girls to run a mile from relationships like that. The man I married drove me crazy. I am now under psychiatric care trying to find my way back. It's a living hell when I think of what I did. I'll never get over it. Sign me — Too Late, Baby

Dear Friend: I am truly sorry

about your nightmarish experience but I'm glad you wrote. I wonder how many people who read your letter also have a gun lying around "in case someone breaks in."

According to the Civic Disarmament Committee For Handgun Control in Chicago, about 65 per cent of all murders are the result of family fights or disagreements with friends. If there were no gun handy and the angry person grabbed a kitchen knife, his victim would have five times as good a chance to live. There are about 31 million handguns, pistols and revolvers loose in the U.S. For our own sake and for the sake of others, we must give them up.

CONFIDENTIAL To Want To Control My Mean Tongue: Make up your mind you're going to treat every person you know as if it's the last time you will ever see him. You'll be amazed at what a difference in your behavior this one thought can make.

Dr. Lester Coleman

Does one attack of kidney stones mean that there is greater susceptibility to more in the future? Is there any way to avoid this painful experience?

Mr. J.D., Minn.

Dear Mr. D.: One attack does not necessarily predispose a person to future attacks.

A better understanding of how stones are formed will clearly demonstrate that, if the underlying cause is not eliminated, the attacks may very well occur again.

Urine flows from the kidney through the narrow tubes, the ureters, into the bladder.

Infection, inflammation and some irritation in the kidneys or in the ureters may be responsible for the calcium deposit that is the beginning of a stone. Stones, even tiny ones, can produce the excruciating pain of the attacks.

Occasionally, the stone, instead of being composed of calcium, may contain uric acid crystals. This suggests a tendency to gout.

Diet, elimination of infection along the urinary tract, and control of the gouty tendency, are the best ways to prevent the formation of further stones.

During the past three years, my daughter has twice lost all her eyelashes. At the age of 18 this is particularly embarrassing. The eyelashes grow back after a few months. What is causing this?

Mrs. E.E., Ga.

Dear Mrs. E.: One of the most common causes is some allergic reaction to cosmetics. A number of cases have been reported of high sensitivity to nail polish. It sounds strange that an allergic reaction around the eyes should be traced to some distant sources.

North and South were so busy arguing about whose fault it was that they failed to bid and make a club or diamond slam, that neither one noticed that South should have made his four-spade contract. It seems that after winning the heart lead, South had played three rounds of trumps after which unfortunate start there was no way for him to score more than nine tricks.

South could have insured a 10th trick by playing only two rounds of trumps and then leading a diamond. If West ducked South would have his 10th trick; if West took his ace and led a second heart South should refuse to ruff. Then he would be able to ruff the next heart in dummy and score the rest of the tricks.

This type of play in one form or another occurs quite often and is well worth learning. As for the bidding we agree with both partners. Each one had bid badly.

Ask the Jacobys

An Alabama reader wants to know what you should bid after opening one club with: ♠ 6 A 8 7 ♦ K J 5 ♣ A 10 9 7 5 3. There is a one-spade overall; your partner bids two hearts and the next player passes.

Our answer is that we raise to three hearts. There is a temptation to bid three clubs but we resist it.

Six Letters

The popularity of a column is reflected in the amount of mail it receives.

These are the six letters I got last year.

ON MANNERS: "Your column on manners brought back memories of our daughter. We had a freshly baked cake cooling on top of the refrigerator and of course she spotted it and began yelling, 'Pie, pie, pie.' (Do your kids call cake, pie, and pie, cake?)"

"I finally cut her a piece and in handing it to her said, 'Now, what do you say?' With a wide smile and blue eyes sparkling she muttered, softly, 'Spoon.'"

ON WEIGHT: "At the close of World War II, one of the first missions the Army undertook in the invasion of the Philippines was the rescue of allied civilians being held at the infamous San Tomas POW camp outside Manila."

"An Army doctor helped one of the first liberated American women on the scales and called out, 'This woman is five feet seven inches tall. She weighs 65 pounds.'"

"Sixty-five pounds," screamed the former prisoner. "That's wonderful. Now if I can just lose five more pounds, I'll be just right!"

ON DISCIPLINE: "When our kids were small, my wife and I would take turns being the 'bad guy' so that I wasn't always the bogey man with the spanking bit. She'd take a month and I'd take a month to even it out. We referred to one another as the 'designated hitter.'"

ON LETTER WRITERS: "When our son was in college and failed to write for some time, my husband and I would send him a newsy letter in which we would say, 'Thought you might need a little more money. Enclosed is a check.' Of course we left the check out."

"Almost immediately, we received a very newsy letter with a casual P.S. saying, 'By the way, you forgot to enclose the check.'"

ON UPSHIP: "A child psychologist was breakfasting with his daughter, who refused to eat. She insisted on being served a fried worm. The fried worm was brought in and the father told her to eat. The child said, 'You eat half of it!' The father complied and the child whined, 'You just ate my half.'"

ON DOGS: "You, lady, can go to h——! You don't know anything about dogs. They are better than people. They're kinder. Smarter. And care about you. I promise you if you write another column about dogs, I am not going to take your g—— d—— newspaper! Have a good day."

South Haven

South Haven School Board Will Push For Building Plan

By TOM RENNER
South Haven Correspondent
SOUTH HAVEN — The South Haven board of education last night voted to proceed with planning to meet the district's building construction needs and to submit a financing measure for the work to district voters this year.

Board action came on urging of Supt. Harold Gaarde. "Now is the time for the people to come together," said Supt. Harold Gaarde in challenging the board to bring the issue to the electorate this year.

Gaarde noted that although a number of improvements have been made to buildings and grounds of the school district during the past two years, there is still a need to provide additional facilities and make further improvements.

The superintendent reported there is a need for additional elementary classrooms, more physical education space at the Central school and improvement to the Ratcliffe athletic field.

He said there is also a "dire" need to renovate the existing auditorium at Central school and/or construct a new auditorium facility at the high school.

In other areas, a proposed agreement and budget for continuing the community recreation and education program in cooperation with the city of South Haven was presented by Robert Gabel, director of the program.

The school board, city council and recreation board are scheduled to meet March 8 to review the proposal which, if approved, would extend the agreement until June 30, 1979.

The recreation board is proposing a budget of $86,800 for 1976-77 as opposed to current year expenditures estimated to be $81,859.

Gaarde clarified his position on a recently changed policy that now requires personnel to report for work on days when classes aren't held because of the weather.

The superintendent said he was misunderstood when he intimated to this newspaper during an interview that he was changing the policy to require a day of work for a day of pay.

Last night he said the policy was enacted to "improve the instructional program."

Maurice Carroll, elementary director, reviewed results of the state assessment tests administered last fall to fourth and seventh graders.

Carroll observed that the results indicate a regression in scores from grade 4 to 7, particularly in reading. Also, that South Haven students scored higher in the math objectives than in reading, but still below state averages.

He noted that only 31 per cent of the seventh graders attained 17 or more of the 20 reading objectives while 32 per cent attained fewer than four.

Gaarde added that there is an apparent higher success rate by children who have been in the South Haven system since kindergarten than those who enrolled partway through kindergarten and sixth grade. He pointed to stability of the home and a continuity of education as the reasons.

The board introduced several policy changes, mostly routine. One proposal would allow school bus drivers to assign students to seats. Another would allow the use of school buses for non-school purposes such as senior citizen trips.

The board noted that Mrs. Dorothy Bennett, first grade teacher at Indiana school, and Mrs. Maxine Drenth, junior high librarian, will retire at the end of the school year. Mrs. Bennett has been employed by the district 21 years and Mrs. Drenth for 12 years.

South Haven Votes To Resurface Airport Runway At Own Expense

By DENNIS COGSWELL
Paw Paw Bureau
SOUTH HAVEN — South Haven city council voted last night to withdraw from a joint project with the Michigan Municipal Aeronautics commission to reconstruct 900 feet of deteriorated runway at the city's airport.

Under a recommendation from City Manager Albert R. Pierce adopted by the council, the city will instead resurface the runway at its own expense next spring.

Pierce said that initial estimates of fixing the runway had been about $18,000, which the city and state would have divided equally on a matching basis. However, because of more stringent requirements added by the state, the estimate has now zoomed to $63,000, he said.

Additionally, to secure the state matching funds, the city would have to acquire more land at the airport for "clear zones" at the end of the runway, which could cost another $75,000 to $100,000, the city manager said. Although 75 per cent of the land acquisition could be refunded by the Federal Administration, Pierce said, repayment of funds might take as long as two to three years.

Pierce noted that according to an engineering study commissioned by the city, the runway could be resurfaced for about $23,000, and council voted to take that alternative, using only city funds.

In other areas, Alfred Hawkins, the black principal of Covert high school, and Capt. William Chandler, commander of the Fifth state police district, were added to a committee which will screen successors to retiring Police Chief Otto Buelow, after several persons had said the committee was not balanced.

As originally recommended by Pierce, the committee included Louis C. Amrein, president of the Everett Piano company; Fred Thomas, vice-president of the Citizens Trust and Savings bank; Harold Gaarde, South Haven superintendent of schools; Mrs. Gale Hanson, an attorney George Hale, president of Hale's Department store; and Benton Harbor Police Chief Andrew Rodez.

However, Councilman Rex Lineberry objected, noting that the committee contained no blue collar workers and no minority members except for Rodez, who was not a South Haven resident.

"This is not a good cross section of the people of the city of South Haven," Lineberry said.

He was joined in the protest by Louis Rodenhous, representing a social action committee at the Hope Reformed church, and the Rev. Timothy Holly, pastor of the Emmanuel Community church.

Rodenhouse said he had no objections to the people on the committee, but that it lacked true minority representation.

Rev. Holly said that when it came to selecting a minority member Pierce apparently felt he had to go all the way to Benton Harbor for Rodez. He added that it appeared that Pierce "found all the necessary brainpower (on the committee) in this community until it came to blacks."

Pierce responded by saying that under the city charter he had the authority to do all the screening of the 20 remaining applicants himself, but that he thought a committee approach would be better. He added that he had no objections to adding more members.

Rev. Holly recommended Hawkins, and Mayor Richard Lewis suggested adding Chandler, and the council voted unanimously to approve the two additions plus the six original members.

Council also voted 4-2 not to pay Irvin Hamilton, Evanston, Ill., $900 to cover his share of the cost of extending a water line in 1955 back to the Evergreen Bluff subdivision. City Atty. William Verdonk had issued an opinion saying that an implied contract for a refund between Hamilton and the city existed then, although there was never a signed document.

Voting not to repay Hamilton were council members Ronald Kozlik, Wilbur Ingrham, Matthew Goerg, and Norvan Books, with Lineberry and Lewis in favor. Councilman Robert Warren was not present for the vote, although he later came to the meeting.

By a 6-1 margin, council approved an appropriation of $250 to the Van Buren Drug Abuse program, and agreed to consider a $500 appropriation in the next budget.

John Deren, the program's director, said that some of the smaller communities in the county were withholding donations because they have felt in the past South Haven has not been doing its share to support the program.

Voting for the appropriation were Lineberry, Warren, Lewis, Ingrham, Kozlik, and Goerg, with Book against.

Action on two apparently conflicting ordinances related to the use of alcohol in public places was tabled. One ordinance, passed in 1905, prohibits all alcohol or spirituous liquors in parks and other public places. The other passed in 1956, allows the drinking of beer and wine.

Council also approved a request by the Scott Aviation company to keep two mobile construction trailers on its property for another year; appointed Robert C. Winkel to the city's board of review; gave the South Haven Junior Athletic Association permission to sell tickets in the downtown area for its annual St. Patrick's Day smorgasbord; and approved a request by the Watervliet Knights of Columbus to hold its annual Tootsie Roll sale in the downtown area on April 9-11.

Cuba Looms Larger On Kissinger Tour

By KENNETH J. FREED
Associated Press Writer
CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — Cuba is beginning to dominate Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger's Latin-American trip despite his claim that he is not on an anti-Castro crusade.

Kissinger told reporters Tuesday night "I don't need much encouragement" to talk about the Cuban intervention in Angola and the U.S. government's warning against similar action in the future.

The Cuban issue was first raised during Kissinger's visit to Venezuela by President Carlos Andres Perez and recurred all through the day Tuesday. It dominated the questions that followed a speech by Kissinger to a meeting of U.S. and Venezuelan businessmen, politicians and academics. "What happened in Angola will not happen again," he declared.

Only by arousing American and hemispheric concern, he said, can we build the support necessary to keep Cuba from new foreign intervention.

A subsequent news conference also included many questions about Cuba and Angola.

Kissinger's speech outlined a six-point program to promote inter-American relations, but it also recognized the growing feeling of independence among Latin-American nations.

Such past U.S. efforts as the Alliance for Progress "led many in Latin America to think that the United States wanted to maintain or create a relationship of hegemony," he said. Washington, meanwhile, developed a cynical attitude from "being besieged with demands" from its southern neighbors.

Both the United States and Latin American now see the need for change, the secretary continued.

"The United States is prepared to make a major effort to invigorate our hemispheric ties," he declared, adding that his trip "underlines that purpose."

He pledged that the Ford administration would:

—Take special note of Latin American economic needs in framing U.S. global policy.

—Maintain the present level of direct aid to the neediest countries still "oppressed by poverty and natural disaster."

—Give special support to the creation of regional and subregional organizations.

—Negotiate "on the basis of parity and dignity" such disputed matters as a new Panama Canal treaty.

—Invigorate the U.S. commitment to protect the hemisphere from outside attack or from inside threats to undermine independence.

—Make a strong effort to reform and modernize the Organization of American States.

Kissinger and Venezuelan Foreign Minister Ramon Revor Salom also issued a joint statement promising closer bonds between their countries.

DIVORCING: After almost 62 years of marriage, Gordon and Ida Flint of Dallas, Tex., are getting a divorce. Not because they want to but the 88-year-old retiree can't give his wife the nursing home care she needs on his monthly income of $488. Social workers told Flint welfare could take care of his wife's bills fully only if they were divorced, so Flint is getting the Dallas Legal Services to file for the divorce. (AP Wirephoto)

UAW Considers Short-Term Pacts

DETROIT (AP) — The United Auto Workers, which saw the auto industry go from boom to bust since it last negotiated a contract, may seek to drop its traditional three-year pact in favor of a shorter-term agreement when it returns to the bargaining table this fall.

"Things have changed so dramatically since 1973," UAW Vice President Douglas Fraser said Tuesday, noting the severe industry depression which came on the heels of a banner sales year when the current contract was negotiated in 1973.

"It's getting harder and harder to predict changes in this industry," he said.

Fraser, who addressed the opening session of a three-day UAW skilled trades conference, said he expects the union to propose a contract "shorter than three years" when it drafts its top bargaining goals at a special convention in here next month.

Current agreements covering 750,000 hourly auto workers at the four major car companies expire in September.

Fraser didn't say specifically how much shorter a new contract he would like, although he said, in response to a reporter's question, it should be "somewhere between one and three years."

The UAW has had three-year contracts with the auto makers since 1955. The union negotiated a five-year agreement in 1950 and a two-year pact in 1948.

Fraser said he would push for a shorter-term contract. However, there were few indications he had support of other union leaders.

Vice President Ken Bannon said, "It was all new to me" when he heard Fraser propose a shorter-term agreement in a speech before 1,000 delegates.

"This is the first I've heard of it," Bannon said. "He hasn't talked to any of the officers about it."

UAW President Leonard Woodcock said discussion about contract length at this time is "premature."

"The term of the contract is not preordained," he said. "It depends upon the atmospherics at the bargaining table. The length of the contract is tied to the benefits."

Attorney Ads Still Target Of Lawsuit

By W. DALE NELSON
Associated Press Writer
PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A consumer organization challenging restrictions on advertising by lawyers apparently will continue with its lawsuit despite a proposed change in American Bar Association policy.

"So far as I can tell it will have no effect," said Peter Schuck, an attorney for Consumers Union, after learning of Tuesday's action by the ABA House of Delegates.

The delegates, in a session which wound up the ABA's six-day midyear meeting, approved a limited increase in the amount of information lawyers may give the public about their fees and specialties.

The new policy is subject to approval by state bar associations.

The information would be limited to directories approved by the ABA Committee on Law Lists, except that information other than fees could also be published in the yellow pages of telephone directories.

The ABA charges a minimum of $750 to consider approval of a law list.

"The First Amendment precludes that kind of prior clearance," Schuck said. "In addition, there appears to be a restriction on the kind of fee information that can be published."

The new ABA policy says the following information can be published about fees:

"Whether credit cards or other credit arrangements are accepted; office and other hours of availability; a statement of legal fees for an initial consultation or the availability upon request of a written schedule of fees or an estimate of the fee to be charged for the specific services."

ABA President Lawrence E. Walsh interpreted the new policy to mean that the initial consultation fee was the only figure that could be advertised. Beyond that, the lawyer could say only that he would outline his other fees if asked.

The Consumers Union filed suit against bar officials in Virginia for the right to obtain fee information from lawyers and publish it in a directory for consumers.

A three-judge federal court panel had granted the ABA a postponement of the case to allow time for action at the meeting here. The trial is now scheduled for March 15 in Norfolk.

Similar suits are pending in California, Wisconsin, New York and Hawaii.

Tuesday's action grew out of a study undertaken by the ABA after the Supreme Court ruled last year that the legal profession is not exempt from anti-trust laws.

Michigan's Primary 'Too Late To Scrap'

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Two top state legislative leaders predict Michigan's May 18th presidential primary will be held as scheduled.

House Speaker Bobby Crim said Tuesday, "I would support doing away with it after this year, but it's too late to scrap it for May 18."

The Davison Democrat also predicted the state will "pick up the entire cost or pick up a goodly portion" of the estimated $2 million to $3 million cost of holding the primary.

Rep. Alfred Sheridan, D-Taylor, House Elections Committee chairman, said he'll oppose a bill in his committee that would eliminate the contest.

That bill, introduced last week by Rep. Louis Cramton, R-Midland, and 27 other representatives from both parties, is now in Sheridan's committee. Backers of the measure contend the presidential primary proves nothing and costs too much.

However, Alabama Gov. George Wallace sees moves to junk the primary as a threat to his Michigan political support. Wallace won 51 per cent of the vote in the 1972 Michigan presidential primary. "If I have anything to do with it, the bill will never come out of committee," Sheridan said.

Gov. William Milliken has said the presidential primary should be held this year but that lawmakers should consider scrapping it in the future. Milliken also has said local governments should shoulder the costs, but has not ruled out some state sharing of the tab.

Bills are in House and Senate committees now to make the state pick up the full cost of the primary.

Sheridan said he will insist on a public hearing if his committee approves the bill against his wishes, adding that Wallace might show up at such a hearing.

Wallace's Michigan campaign co-ordinator, Art Cullers of Battle Creek, has said the Cramton bill is an attempt to undercut Wallace's support in the state.

Cullers also says Wallace would personally campaign in Michigan to bar a serious threat to this year's presidential primary.

Lebanon Asks Loans, Grants For War Repair

By ALY MAHMOUD
Associated Press Writer
BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Lebanon will seek $1.5 billion in loans from the United States, Europe and the Arab oil states to help rebuild its war-shattered economy, Economy Minister Adel Osseiran says.

"It is too early to determine the precise size of damage to the economy. Preliminary estimates by my experts put it at $3.5 billion to $4.4 billion," Osseiran said in an interview. Other estimates run as high as $10 billion.

Osseiran said several Arab and Western governments have expressed readiness to help, and some wealthy Lebanese abroad have pledged financial contributions.

"Initially, we need $1.5 billion in loans," said Osseiran, "but I'm hopeful that the size of grants and contributions from governments and Lebanese emigrants would help squeeze the size of projected loans."

The Lebanese government is to earmark a billion dollars in the regular budget for reconstruction, he said, but limiting expenditure to this amount would slow down development programs.

Ten months of street fighting wrecked the free-wheeling economy in what used to be the financial center and playground of the Middle East. About 12,000 persons were killed and another 40,000 wounded.

Several Lebanese banks fled and set up operations in Western Europe. Scores of Lebanese and foreign business firms transferred their headquarters and staff to Bahrain, Egypt, Jordan and Greece. More than 50,000 other Lebanese sought business opportunities and refuge in Paris, Brussels and London, according to Lebanese officials.

The Banque Libano-Francaise, the Credit Libanais and the Banque du Liban et d'Outre-Mer were reported seeking permission to open subsidiaries in Paris.

"I've been assured by several banks and foreign firms that their operations would be resumed in Beirut as soon as possible," said Osseiran.

However, he conceded Lebanon's army is too small and its internal security forces inadequate.

"The government will put aside $2.2 billion to bolster the army and internal security forces over the next five years. We will buy weapons from France, the U.S. and elsewhere to make the army and internal security forces strong enough to defend Lebanon," he said.

The government will also set up a housing bank to extend long-term credits to help citizens rebuild their war-damaged houses.

Lebanon won't relinquish its traditional laissez-faire economic philosophy, Osseiran said.

Osseiran, a 61-year-old Shiite Moslem, is a multimillionaire and has been speaker of parliament eight times.

Major Hollywood Studio Making A Porno Picture

Q: Will any of the major Hollywood production companies ever make a true pornographic-type film? — X.C., Troy, N.Y.

A: Many Hollywood professionals would love to try a porno film just to show how much better they could do it than the less talented types now in the field. A major film studio is reportedly in the process of turning out a hard-core number in which a noted star will play a father who discovers his daughter working in skin flicks. The script is said to be by Robert Towne, whose credits include "Chinatown" and unidentified "American research team" which measured the busts and brains of some 200 coeds and came up with the conclusion that I.Q.'s and bosoms tend to be inversely proportional — with the smarter girls having busts average to small. Please don't blame us for these findings. We don't believe them either.

Q: Is it true that the famous fashion photographer Scavullo has become a movie actor? — R.H., N.Y., N.Y.

A: He was briefly playing himself in the film "Lipstick" starring Margaux Hemingway. In one scene he was arranging seaweed on Margaux in preparation for a photograph. Scavullo took so much time fussing with the seaweed that director Lamont Johnson got very impatient. When he tried to hurry Scavullo, the photographer objected — after all it was his big scene. Johnson lost his temper and said "get off my set you little (unprintable)."

SCANDAL TIME: The young housekeeper of a famous movie star has gotten herself into real trouble. A prominent couple who live nearby have discovered that the woman seduced their two young sons. The sordid details emerged when the youngest child broke down.

Q: Why is producer Sam Spiegel making a movie of F. Scott Fitzgerald's unfinished novel, "The Last Tycoon"? Hasn't it been around for years? — H.V., Newark, Del.

A: Yes, it has. But Spiegel is noted for turning neglected classics into money-making films, as he did with "Lawrence of Arabia" and "The African Queen." Sam thinks that present-day Hollywood has lost the knack for producing high quality pictures of lasting importance and, at the age of 72, he is out to remind them how it's done.

Seven Detroit Clinics Dropped By Medicaid

DETROIT (AP) — Seven metropolitan area clinics which treated some 14,000 Medicaid patients are being dropped from the Medicaid program because of overbilling by doctors and widespread abuse, the state Social Services Department has announced.

The termination of all seven outlets of the Park Clinic Group in Detroit, Lincoln Park and Highland Park will take effect in 15 days, department officials said Tuesday. Department officials said the clinics overbilled the Medicaid program more by than $2 million over 3½ years.

Termination means the state will no longer pay doctors at the Park Clinic group for care rendered to Medicaid patients.

Paul Allen, chief deputy of the social services department, said the alleged overbilling involved unnecessary laboratory tests and bills for tests that were never performed.

"We estimate we overpaid them (the Park Clinic group) more than $672,000 in 1974 and close to $700,000 in 1975," said Allen. In 1973, the state demanded the clinics to return $880,000. To date, according to Allen, the clinics have returned $462,500 of that amount. "We're interested in finding our clients other doctors in the Detroit area," said Allen.

The state has suspended about 25 doctors and other medical care providers from Medicaid in the past 12 months and has recovered about $1.3 million in overbillings.

Patty: Bank Job Was Done Under Death Threat

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Patricia Hearst says her mind was swamped with revolutionary rhetoric and her body ravaged by rape and other physical abuse when she robbed a bank under fear of execution.

Miss Hearst wept frequently as she testified before the jury for the second time Tuesday — a day on which the trial judge issued a memorandum saying the newspaper heiress had failed to convince him she was "a prisoner whose every move was made under the watchful eye" of her Symbionese Liberation Army kidnapers.

Miss Hearst, sipping water and using tissues to wipe away her tears, told her jurors that she entered a Hibernia Bank branch on April 15, 1974, certain that SLA chieftain Donald "Cinque" DeFreeze intended to gun her down in front of surveillance cameras.

She watched a replay of the bank robbery and, when asked by defense counsel F. Lee Bailey why she frequently glanced over her shoulder at DeFreeze, replied, "I had thought that even though I would go in and do this, that he was going to kill me anyway inside the bank."

She said she reacted with disbelief when the SLA told her they were going to rob a bank and she would participate. They said they needed money, she testified, and that DeFreeze "wanted me to be wanted by the FBI."

The basis of Miss Hearst's defense is that she participated in the holdup under threat of death.

The jurors listened intently Tuesday as the defendant testified between replays of the tapes she said she recorded in blind terror.

She told them of being forced to have sexual intercourse with DeFreeze and SLA member Willie Wolfe in the cell-like closet where she was kept blindfolded.

Bailey said Miss Hearst would continue her saga today, her third day on the stand, as she moves into what he concedes is the "stickiest point" in her defense — a shooting spree that led indirectly to the deaths of DeFreeze, Willie Wolfe and four other SLA members in a shoot-out.

The defendant has admitted spraying a Los Angeles sporting goods store with rifle fire in what she claimed was an SLA-induced reflex to free two SLA members from a bungled shoplifting attempt.

overnight plus other clues led Los Angeles police to the shoot-out in which the six SLA members died on May 17, 1974. The jury will see a videotaped newscast of the fiery afternoon, Bailey said.

U.S. Atty. James L. Browning Jr. won a crucial victory last Wednesday when U.S. Dist. Judge Oliver J. Carter allowed the Los Angeles activities and Miss Hearst's tape-recorded words as "Tania" to be admitted into evidence.

PATTY HEARST Swamped and ravaged

Two Groups' Similarities 'Striking'

By LINDA DEUTSCH Associated Press Writer

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The political platform of the Symbionese Liberation Army described in Patricia Hearst's sworn testimony bears a striking similarity to the goals of another fanatic tribe — the Charles Manson Family.

Miss Hearst said Tuesday that the SLA planned massive violence, including killings, in an effort to incite a class revolution that would end with the SLA in control.

In Manson's 1970 trial, witnesses said he ordered the killing of actress Sharon Tate and six others to spur a race war which would end with the Manson Family inheriting the earth.

Miss Hearst said SLA members frequently spoke of themselves as "the court of the people." Manson followers have spoken of their alliances with a "people's court of retribution."

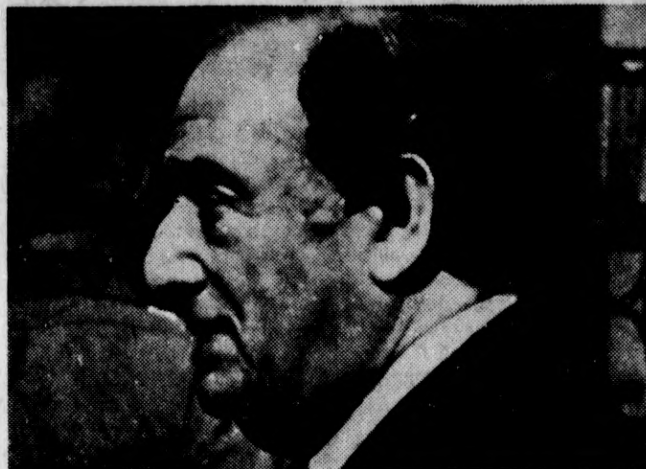

Miss Hearst remembered the SLA members telling her of their goals: "They said that what they wanted to do was do a lot of violent things so that the government would retaliate with violence and that people would get so mad that the government were pressuring, that they would then rise up and say, 'Well, the SLA was right.'"

Manson, who nicknamed his revolution "Helter Skelter," saw it as an uprising of the underprivileged and foresaw blacks and whites killing each other. The blacks, he said, would take control for a time but, unable to govern, would yield all power to the Manson tribe.

The SLA plans, Miss Hearst said, also had racial overtones. He said the SLA believed "that white people couldn't be trusted because they were sellouts historically and that the only way for black people to be able to trust white people was if they showed that they were willing to die.... They always talked about that, you know, we're willing to die and there was nothing better than to die for the people."

Manson's disenchanted followers testified that he frequently demanded their pledges that they were willing to die for him. There were other similarities as well. The SLA "soldiers" were known by nicknames such as Cujo, Gelina and Fahiza. Manson gave his women followers new names such as "Squeaky" "Gypsy" and "Ouish."

'Dial Down' Won't Keep Gas Bills From Going Higher

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Public Service Commission Chairman Daniel Demlow says regulation of Michigan utilities just isn't working like it should — for the state, the companies or Joe Public.

"You can dial down until you're freezing in your house, and your gas bills are still going to go up. It's a simple fact of life," Demlow said Tuesday in his first testimony before a special legislative committee probing utility rate-setting.

The rate-setting process that he directs must be made "faster, simpler, fairer and more open," he said, and the process is now too complex for participation by the average utility customer.

But Demlow said the "real ball park" for the commission in the future will be deciding what energy supply and demand should be in Michigan.

"We can make the process open, fair, faster and simple, but if we don't address the question of demand for energy and how it will be financed there is a damned good chance that we will have not one bit of effect on the rates Michigan customers pay," he told the committee.

Demlow said he would, however, set as his top priority finding a solution to the "devastating" effect of power costs on old and low income users.

He advocated an intervention fund to help consumers' groups and municipalities pay the high cost of opposing a rate increase request.

A suggestion by Commissioner William Ralls to create a "public advocate office" to oppose utilities' requests routinely would not work, Demlow said, because it would probably not represent the public in small rate requests.

Demlow repeated an old proposal that the PSC have an attorney in Washington to intervene on its behalf with the Federal Energy Administration and Federal Power Commission, which regulate natural gas supplies and prices.

In a free-wheeling five-hour session, committee members questioned Ralls' political aspirations and grilled veteran Commissioner Lenton Sculthorp on three conversations he had with utility representatives since 1972.

Two Republican committee members, Charles Varnum of Manistique and James Smith of Grand Blanc, accused Ralls of using his office to further his political ambitions.

An examination by the committee staff of Ralls' appointment calendar for the first six months of 1975 showed Ralls spent 36 of his 119 working days traveling throughout the state. Ralls said it is necessary that he be "accessible" to the public.

Ralls said several meetings with "local Dems" noted on his travel itinerary were actually open to anyone.

The sole PSC Democrat and typical dissenter on rate increases, Ralls has been mentioned as a possible U.S. Senate candidate and was eyed as Sander Levin's running mate in the 1974 gubernatorial election.

He said Tuesday he would not rule out running for governor when his term as commissioner ends next year.

The committee chairman, Rep. Howard Wolpe, D-Kalamazoo, also called "clearly improper" private conversations Sculthorp had with representatives of Consumers Power Co. and Michigan Bell Telephone Co. in 1972, 1974 and 1975.

State rules prohibit commissioners from private conversations over rate case issues.

Sculthorp said no issues relating to rate cases were discussed and no promises were made to the companies. At one point the commissioner raised his voice, accusing the commission of "harping" on the issue and "making a mountain out of a molehill."

The conversations concerned the levels of increases to be granted to Bell in its pending $88.1 million case, and Consumers' debt financing and payment for its $150 million Marysville plant.

Sculthorp said the conversations were just "ploys" used by utility representatives, but that he is able to brush off such comments like he would requests for lower rates he gets often from consumers.

PSC Study Proposes New Controls Over Fuel Costs

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — The staff of the Public Service Commission, echoing the stand of some of its critics, has proposed new controls and reductions in rising fuel costs which have led to bigger monthly bills for utility customers.

The 103-page PSC staff report issued Tuesday concluded utilities need more incentives to hold down fuel costs and that the public needs more guarantees to insure that automatic fuel-cost clauses are not costing them more than they should.

The report also said the salaries of utility managers and directors should be cut if they make decisions about charging customers for fuel costs "without reasonable documentation" to back up their decisions.

Currently, utilities may automatically pass through 100 per cent of increased fuel costs to their customers. No PSC approval is required. The report suggests the PSC monitor fuel costs more closely. It also suggests the PSC consider limiting customer-charges to 90 per cent of the company's increased fuel costs. A special House committee investigating the PSC and highly critical of its operations made the same recommendation last week.

Customers of Consumers Power Co. and Detroit Edison have paid an average $3.25 more each month since 1974 because of the clauses, the PSC staff said in the study.

The staff report concluded, however, that utilities in Michigan are not overcharging customers through the pass-through clause, which has cost customers about $650 million since 1972, according to PSC commissioner William Ralls.

Critics say the clauses do not encourage electric companies to negotiate the most thrifty fuel contracts and allow unnecessary charges to customers.

Proposals in the report would toughen PSC monitoring of coal contracts, deliveries and heat content (BTUs).

If approved by the three-member PSC, the staff recommendations "would assure the public that the clauses are operating properly," PSC Chairman Daniel Demlow said.

The PSC staff found that Michigan electric companies on average paid more for coal — and customers paid more through the fuel adjustment clauses — than utilities in Illinois, Wisconsin, Indiana and Ohio. But, it concluded, that was probably due to higher transportation costs Michigan utilities pay.

Staff investigations also showed Consumers Power Co. charged customers $103 million more through the clause in 1974-75 than it spent for fuel it burned.

SJ Township Government Complex Clears 1 Hurdle

St. Joseph township planning commissioners last night voted to recommend a special use permit be granted for a township government complex and heard plans for a $400,000-$500,000 indoor-outdoor tennis facility.

The commission approved the government complex use after a public hearing. The site is 10 acres at Washington Avenue and Nelson road owned by the township. Development plans call for a township hall, police station, public works building, fire station and library over a number of years.

A special use permit is required because the land is zoned residential. The planning commission's recommendation goes to the township board of trustees.

The public hearing lasted about 10 minutes. About 15 people attended the proceeding, but no comments came from the floor during the hearing.

Chairman Ernest Knauf said a detailed plan of the complex and an estimated cost would be presented at the annual township meeting in March by an architect.

In other business last night representatives of a recently formed corporation called The Racket Club presented plans to build a $400,000-$500,000 indoor-outdoor tennis facility on three acres of land west of the Hickory creek bridge off Maiden lane.

It is to be built near Continental Can Co., 3545 South Lake Shore drive, on a road called Tennis court.

Representing the corporation were John (Jack) Kinney III, president of Consumers Investment Co., Benton Harbor, and J. Thomas Butler, of Butler Real Estate Investments, St. Joseph, and acting president of the corporation.

No action was taken by the planning commission because the three acres are zoned industrial. Knauf said it is legal to build recreational facilities on property zoned industrial without a special permit or rezoning. The planning commission told Kinney and Butler their next step would be to meet with the building inspector prior to obtaining a building permit.

The three acres of land are presently owned by Kinney, but the corporation, made up of a number of local people, plans to buy it from him, according to Butler. Kinney is also a member of the corporation.

Butler said the facility would have six indoor courts and four outdoor courts. There will also be a pro shop, locker room facilities for men and women and parking space for 71 vehicles.

He said the club is scheduled to open in September of this year. Only club members will be able to use the facilities and a membership fee will be required to join. Memberships will be open to the public.

Edward Sieber, 1715 Golfview, Fairplain, appeared before the planning commission and presented a petition signed by 20 township residents opposing the building of other tennis courts near his home. Sieber said he heard the Berrien Hills country club was considering building the courts. The planning commission accepted the petition, but said no plans for the courts had been presented to them.

Pro, Con Presented On Campground

Coloma Zone Board To Rule Later

By ALAN AREND
Staff Writer

COLOMA — Coloma township zoning board of appeals yesterday afternoon heard divided opinions on whether a proposed zoning variance should be granted for construction of a resort campground in the township. Some 20 residents attended the 1½ hour hearing at Coloma township hall before zoning appeals board members John McCrery and Robert Becht. The other member of the appeals board, John Steele, is vacationing in Florida.

Following yesterday's session, McCrery stated the hearing would be continued at a later date at which time a decision on the matter may be issued. He said all concerned parties would be notified in advance of the next hearing.

The resort campground has been proposed by Mr. and Mrs. Larry Bittner, route 1, Carmody road, Coloma, on a 28-acre tract of land now owned by Mrs. John (Corrine) King and her four stepchildren. The land, known as Hidden Acres, is adjacent to Little Paw Paw lake, off Coloma North road.

The land is presently zoned for agricultural use and must be exempted before construction of the proposed resort campground for travel trailers can begin.

Mrs. Bittner said she and her husband plan to fully develop the site into a "beautiful, attractive, well-managed campground" in the back portion of the King property, at least a quarter to a half mile away from Coloma North road.

She said they initially (during the first two to three years) plan to develop 25 sites on the property, and their five to 10 year plan calls for an additional 25 sites.

Bittner stated that five of the seven surrounding property owners have indicated they have no objections to the proposal and the campground would be located some 200 yards away from the northeast corner of the lake. He said the campground would not be seen from Coloma North road.

He said the campground would be open to travel trailers generally for weeklong or weekend stays during the summer months only, but would also be open for single overnight stays.

Bittner said he and his wife plan to stay at the campground when it is open and no hunting will be allowed in the area. They said the camp would be managed around the clock.

Major opponents to the proposed campground, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Boison, 5949 Coloma North road, an adjoining property owner, presented the zoning appeals board with petitions signed by some 30 residents they said lived along Coloma North road and around Little Paw Paw lake, opposing the zoning variance request.

Boison said concerned local property owners urged that the zoning classification of agricultural be recognized, and enforced... "to protect the rights, and interests of those of us who have invested our capital, and efforts, to uphold the qualities of the premises we possess."

Boison claimed the Bittners "misrepresented the true facts" about the proposed campground when they sought signatures of adjoining property owners. Bittner denied the charge, and added Boison "didn't even give me a chance to explain it to him," a statement Boison said was not true.

Several other area residents felt the campground would cause a large amount of traffic on Coloma North road, and bring "a bunch of noisy campers" into the area.

G.L. DuVernay of Coloma township said he was "very much" against the campground. "I'm a camper and I'd say 60 to 80 per cent of all travel trailer campgrounds are not quiet."

Another township couple, Mr. and Mrs. Webster Durfee, totally disagreed. Mrs. Durfee, said she and her husband have been to many "beautiful, well kept, quiet campgrounds." She said the Hidden Acres property would make an excellent campground site, a "place of tranquility."

Several Little Paw Paw lake residents voiced concern over what type of sewage problems might arise from such a development. Bittner said he's checked with the Berrien county health department and was told that percolation tests at the proposed site indicated there would be no such problem.

McCrery, zoning appeals board member, stated that if a zoning variance is granted, and the Bittners would happen to pull up and leave, the variance reverts back to its agricultural use, or if they sell the land could only be used for the variance granted. He said no other commercial or industrial development could be constructed on the land, if the variance requested by the Bittners is granted.

Bittner said their four-month option on the land is about to run out, and he urged the zoning appeals board to schedule the next hearing as soon as possible. He later told this newspaper he could ask for an extension on his option to purchase the land, but did not know if it would be granted.

No one argued with the fact that even though the land is zoned agricultural, it has not been farmed in over 50 years.

As Robert Becht, zoning appeals board member, described the land: "You couldn't raise a good crop of sandbars on it."

BH Housing Plans Win Support From Planners

The Benton Harbor planning commission agreed Tuesday to support the city commission on two programs to improve housing.

One is designation of the Brunson Hill area as a target for new housing, and the other is code enforcement on the south side.

On a motion of Mayor Charles Joseph, a planning commission member, the planners voted unanimously to recommend priority status to housing projects in the Brunson Hill area when private and public funds become available.

And, while giving a priority to Brunson Hill housing projects, the planning commission also informally agreed to continue the city's plans for code enforcement and rehabilitation programs on the city's south side.

The Brunson Hill area is bordered by Colfax on the west, Ox Creek ravine on the east, Market and Wall streets on the north, and Britain avenue on the south.

The city commission gave the area target status for housing improvements at a meeting Jan. 19. One of the housing the city projects eyed by is a plan to develop townhouse-type developments on land acquired by the city and sold or donated to private developers.

The south side — from Empire avenue south to the city limits — has been designated as the target area for the city's code enforcement and rehabilitation program under this year's Community Development program.

Under the plan, all the houses in that area are being inspected by the city to determine if they meet city housing codes. If they do not, residents can make required improvements through a grant or loan program from the Community Development program or by their own means.

Mayor Joseph said housing projects at Brunson Hill would also stimulate business in downtown Benton Harbor because new residents in Brunson Hill would represent "more buying power" for city businesses.

In other action, the planning commission recommended approval of a special-use permit request by Curtis Hartfield for a beauty salon at 781 East Washington street. The planning commission's recommendation included the stipulation that Hartfield make required building improvements before the permit is granted.

The planning commission is an advisory body which makes recommendations on land-use and permit requests to the city commission.

Planning commission members present at the regular monthly meeting at the Benton Harbor Holiday Inn were Ed Troffer, chairman; Joseph, Acting City Manager Melvin Farmer, Jr.; Dr. Thomas Woodford, Dan Flaugh, Rev. T.N. Wilkins, and John Howard.

BH Policemen Win Yearly Boosts Of Nine Per Cent

By JIM DeLAND
Assistant City Editor

The Benton Harbor city commission Tuesday night approved a two-year contract with the Benton Harbor Patrolmen's association that will give patrolmen pay hikes amounting to 9 per cent a year.

The 9 per cent annual raise is more than the 8.3 per cent offered by the city and ordered by a state arbitrator but less than the 10.32 per cent increase sought by patrolmen.

City Finance Director James Peeples Jr. was unable to explain why the annual raise was higher than that ordered by the arbitrator.

The contract, retroactive to July 1, immediately raises top pay for patrolmen to $11,990 and will boost top pay to $13,342 on Jan. 1, 1977.

The agreement is the result of extended negotiations between the city and patrolmen's association and the decision of the state arbitrator, Atty. Alan Walt of Southfield, on five issues ranging from wages to accumulation of sick leave.

In recommending approval of the contract, Acting City Manager Melvin Farmer Jr. noted that the city has prepared written dissents on the arbitrator's decisions covering sick leave and retroactivity, but stated that "in my opinion it would be fruitless and expensive to pursue our dissents any further."

Neither Farmer nor Peeples could state the cost of the new contract to the city last night, and Peeples said his office had been figuring retroactive pay on the basis ordered by the arbitrator — increments of 5 and 6 per cent every six months, starting last July 1 that would boost it to $13,342.

The actual wages included in the contract approved by the commission last night, however, figure an incremental increase in top pay for top-salaried patrolmen between July 1, 1975, and January 1, 1976 will be $107.50 apiece more than ordered by the arbitrator.

Before the new contract, patrolmen with more than two years of service received a base salary of $10,775 a year. Under the new contract, that salary was raised to $11,529 as of July 1, 1975, and to $11,990 as of Jan. 1, 1976. Another 7 per cent hike on July 1, 1976 will raise the base salary to $12,829 and a 4 per cent hike Jan. 1, 1977 will boost it to $13,342.

In addition, patrolmen will receive longevity pay amounting to 2½ per cent of their salary for those with 5 years continuous service, 5 per cent with 10 years service, 7½ per cent for 15 years service and 10 per cent for 20 years service or more.

Patrolmen assigned to detective work also receive an additional five per cent of their base salary.

Starting pay for a rookie patrolman during the period of the contract will rise from $9,485 as of last July 1 to $10,966 as of next Jan. 1.

Under provisions of the contract, sick leave may be accumulated without limit on the basis of five-sixths of a work day for each completed month of service — 10 days per year.

Unused sick leave accumulated since April 5, 1954, can be converted to cash at up to 100 per cent of the hourly rate at the time of termination of service for patrolmen with 25 years of service.

The city had sought to limit repayment to 50 per cent of the hours accumulated after July 1, 1975.

The contract also follows the arbitrator's ruling that patrolmen don't have to return unearned clothing allowances for plain clothes duty if they leave plain clothes duty before earning the allowance.

The patrolmen's association represents 33 officers at the present time.

Before the new contract, 20 were receiving top pay of $10,775, eight were receiving $10,262 and five officers paid with Comprehensive Employment Training Act (CETA) funds were receiving $8,865.

South Havenite Held In Shooting

By TOM RENNER

South Haven Correspondent

SOUTH HAVEN — City police here last night arrested Murray McKnight, 31, on a charge of felonious assault in connection with the shooting of Willie Warren, 19, reported to be a nephew of McKnight.

Warren, of 417 Cartwright street, South Haven, was listed in fair condition this morning at South Haven Community hospital with a gunshot wound to his stomach. Police said Warren was shot by a .22 caliber pistol at his residence at approximately 10:15 p.m.

McKnight, also of 417 Cartwright street, was apprehended about a half-hour after the shooting at 1015 Indiana avenue, by city police and troopers from the South Haven state police post. A handgun was recovered, police said.

The shooting was the second involving a family dispute in the city within the last four days.

In the other shooting, Eula Foster, 28, of Briar Hills apartments, South Haven, has demanded preliminary examination in Seventh District court on a felonious assault charge.

She was arrested Saturday in connection with the shooting of her husband, Willie Foster, 33. Foster was listed in fairly good condition this morning at Community hospital, with a gunshot wound to his stomach area.

Ex-Lawmaker Finds Job In Legislature

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Following a tradition of helping to find jobs for ex-lawmakers defeated at the polls, the state legislature has hired a former senator who lost a re-election bid in 1974.

Senate Republicans announced Tuesday the hiring of former Sen. Philip Pittenger of Lansing to a $14,500-a-year job as "research assistant." Pittenger will be responsible for research relating to the committees on State Affairs — which he used to chair — Corporations and Economic Development and Commerce.

Following his election defeat, Pittenger first became a lobbyist for the Upjohn Company's Homemaker Division, a home health care operation.

Last summer, he was hired as a $90-a-day consultant with the state Department of Social Services to help realign welfare offices. But he was let go after the Civil Service Commission declared him ineligible for the job.

The Civil Service Department had not been notified of his hiring for almost a month afterward, and such hirings technically require advance approval.

Pittenger's new job continues an old practice of putting various former legislators back on the public payroll in state Capitol jobs. The rationale often given is that they are uniquely qualified to work with legislation, given their experience in office.

Other 1974 losers hired by the legislature are former Rep. William Copeland of Wyandotte, working in the legislative retirement office, and former Sen. Garland Lane of Flint, hired by the Senate as a consultant.

Several other defeated lawmakers have obtained jobs throughout the state bureaucracy, many of them at higher salaries than their previous pay of $17,000 as legislators.

Senate Minority Leader Robert Davis of Gaylord, head of the Republican caucus, said of Pittenger's hiring: "We had an opening, Phil's qualified and he was available."

Asked if there was a tendency to hire old friends when such jobs became available, Davis said: "Whenever anybody is in a position to hire somebody, one would have the tendency to hire somebody he knows."

Davis acknowledged the choice may be seen as favoritism, but added: "You shouldn't consider that just because he's an ex-legislator it should be held against him, either. He would have a lot more expertise being an ex-legislator."

When asked if he personally would have chosen Pittenger, Davis said after hesitating: "It was a caucus decision."

Sen. Earl Nelson, D-Lansing, who beat Pittenger in 1974, said he had no objection to the hiring. "He's got a right to make a living," Nelson said. "If they've got a job they think he can do, I'm all for it."

Intelligence Hearings Planned

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford's actions to reorganize U.S. intelligence — including a curb on presidential power to order covert operations — are headed for close congressional scrutiny. Sen. Walter F. Mondale, D-Minn., the second-ranking Democrat on the Senate intelligence committee, said hearings will be held on Ford's proposals "as soon as practical." Rep. Otis G. Cike, D-N.Y., former chairman of the disbanded House intelligence committee, complained that Ford's proposal will keep control of U.S. intelligence under the secret oversight of "a very small number of people in the executive branch. It's going to depend on those people whether we go back to the abuses of the past."

OBITUARIES

Shaune Mammina

A 17-year-old Fairplain girl was found dead Tuesday in a locked car that was parked in the garage of her home and Benton township police said her death appeared to be suicide.

Shaune Mammina was found by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ben J. Mammina, in the garage of the family's home at 216 Hampton road, shortly after 6 p.m. Police said no autopsy was scheduled, but reported tests were being awaited for determination of the exact cause of death.

According to a police report filed by Sgt. Rick Davis, the car's ignition was on, but the engine was not running. He reported the gas tank was empty and the car battery was dead. He also said there was no evidence of foul play.

Davis said he learned that Shaune reportedly had been dispondent recently over an illness (mononucleosis).

A ruling on the death has not been made, according to Dr. William Benner, chief Berrien County medical examiner. He said it would be about two weeks before an analysis is completed to determine if death was caused by carbon monoxide poisoning.

Shaune was born Aug. 8, 1958, in Benton Harbor and was a senior at Benton Harbor high school. She was a member of the Madrigal singers of Benton Harbor high school and she also attended Lake Michigan College.

Surviving in addition to her parents are her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Mammina and Mrs. Zula Cavoness, all of Benton Harbor; a brother, J. R. Mammina, at home and a sister, Mrs. Ted (Tanya) Anton of Muskegon, Mich.

A funeral mass will be celebrated at 11 a.m. Friday in St. John's Catholic church. Burial will be in Calvary cemetery.

Liturgical prayers will be recited at 7 p.m. Thursday in Kerley and Starks funeral home, St. Joseph, where friends may call after 7 this evening.

Niles Man Guilty In Nurse's Slaying

CENTREVILLE — A rural Niles ex-convict entered a plea of guilty to a reduced charge of second degree murder yesterday in St. Joseph county circuit court here in connection with the Aug. 30 slaying of a Dowagiac nurse.

Judge Robert Boyle said a pre-sentence investigation will be made before he passes sentence on Francis Eugene Cook, 37, M-51 North, Niles.

Cook had been charged with two counts, first degree murder and murder involving sexual conduct, in connection with the slaying of Mrs. Lola Faye West, 32.

Mrs. West's partially clad body had been found in a Wayne township field northeast of Dowagiac Aug. 31 about 10 feet from her car parked in a grassy lane just off Gage street. She had been killed with a pipe.

As the result of a plea agreement revealed in court yesterday, Cass Prosecutor Michael Dodge agreed to drop the original charges and drop prosecution under the habitual criminal statute in exchange for the guilty plea to second degree murder.

Conviction of second degree murder carries a term of up to life imprisonment. First degree murder calls for a mandatory life sentence.

Before accepting the plea, the court was told by Cook that he had lured Mrs. West to the vicinity of Gage street and Glenwood road in Wayne township on the afternoon of Aug. 30 on the pretext that he wanted to hire her as a nurse for an aging grandmother and also to "find out if she knew of any doctor or psychiatrist who could help me."

Once there, he testified he led her into the secluded lane where her car became bogged down in wet sand when she raced the motor trying to escape. Cook claimed he had first tried to help the woman get the car out, but he testified he then smashed out the driver's window and forced her out.

He testified they then talked from 40 to 60 seconds "about a grandmother and about a need of a doctor."

He testified she made references which he interpreted as meaning she wanted to give him some heroin.

At this point, he said, he decided she "had to be put away."

Under further questioning the judge, Cook admitted that by "put away" he meant to kill her.

He said he picked up a pie of "rusty looking copper pipe he saw lying on the ground a hit Mrs. West on the head, I said she sagged to the ground saying, 'My God, I'm dead and he hit her twice more.'

He admitted striking her hard that the pipe bent.

Judge Boyle, with Cook's prior confession before him asked if Cook had had sexual relations with the woman before he struck her.

Cook said he had.

The case is technically in Cass circuit court, but Judge Boyle presiding because Cass Circuit Judge James E. H. disqualifies himself, having done legal work for Cook in 1971.

Cook had been released from Jackson State prison in March of 1975 after serving a term of 18 months for a rape conviction. Cook, who was declared a criminal sexual psychopath, was committed to a state mental hospital in 1967, has a record of sex offenses dating back when he was 10 years old.

Berrien Commissioners Paid $85,000

By SCOTT WILLIAMSON
Staff Writer

The 13 members of Berrien county's board of commissioners last year received a total per diem payment of $27,975. The largest payment went to Chairman of Leslie Fischer of Niles who received $3,850, while Commissioner Bill Joseph of Benton Harbor received the lowest payment at $1,175. Records from the county clerk's office show Joseph attended 47 meetings in 1975 while Fischer attended 154, which include board and committee meetings and meetings for other county-related business. Commissioners are eligible to receive per diem payments for up to 111 days, but County Clerk Forrest H. Kesterke explained a board chairman is allowed an unlimited number of meetings and receives payment for all of them.

The $27,975 total in per diem payments is based on a $25 per meeting rate. In addition to per diem, commissioners received a total of $52,000 in regular salaries, with the chairman paid $4,500, committee chairmen getting $4,000, and regular board members receiving $3,500.

The 13 commissioners also received $5,039 in mileage payments for travel involved in county business, giving a grand total of some $85,000 in salary, per diem and mileage.

Joseph said his meeting total, the lowest of any commissioner, was mainly because his increased job responsibilities as warehouse controller at Whirlpool Corp. made it difficult to get away from the job for meetings. He said he was hopeful, though, that he would be able to attend more meetings this year.

Kesterke's records show Joseph missed three regular board meetings of the 15 held in 1975, and missed roll call but voted on the first issue at three more.

The records also show Joseph did not attend 14 planning and social services committee meetings out of the slightly more than 30 held in 1975.

Other planning and social services committee members R.J. Burkholz and Chairman Nancy Clark attended 96 and 108 meetings, respectively. Neither missed a regular board meeting, and Burkholz was paid $2,400 and Mrs. Clark $2,700 in per diems. Other per diem payments in 1975 were (committee, followed by commissioner's name, number of meetings, and payment):

Finance: Chairman Lad Stacey, 107, $2,675; Carl Gnodtke, 74, $1,850; and Kenneth Wendzel, 68, $1,700.

Administration: Chairman Otto Grau, 70, $1,875; Walter E. Heyn, 65, $1,625; and Frank Poorman, 89, $2,225.

Affairs: Chairman Edward E. Mattix, 80, $2,000; Victor E. Greer, 68, $1,700; and George L. Wyburn, 88, $2,200.

Commissioners who missed a regular board meeting, in addition to Joseph, were Fischer, Heyn, Mattix, Poorman, and Wyburn, each of whom missed one.

Layoff Threat Faces 400 CETA Workers April 1

By JIM DeLAND
Assistant City Editor

Almost 400 people in Berrien county will lose their jobs on April 1 if Congress does not appropriate more funds for the Comprehensive Employment Training Act (CETA) program. That warning was sounded Tuesday by Berrien county CETA Director Weldon Burden, who said the county's allocation of 1975-76 funds for public service employment will run out at the end of March.

Burden said letters already have been sent to 76 agencies and municipalities in the county who have hired workers with CETA funds advising them of the situation, and he added that he felt few of these employees would be retained if CETA funding is discontinued.

"Most of them are in trouble," Burden said. "The program was designed with the idea that eventually these employees would be phased into the agencies' own payrolls, but I'm afraid most of them haven't done that...and most of them don't have the money to pick up the expense of these employees now."

Burden said that 394 employees in the county currently are being paid with CETA funds, including 87 employed by the City of Benton Harbor, 35 by the county government, 22 by Niles township and 21 by Benton township — the four largest recipients of CETA personnel.

He said an additional 126 positions now are vacant because of resignations, firings and other forms of attrition and that they can not be filled because of a "hiring freeze" that went into effect last October.

"If we hadn't done that, we might have been out of money today," Burden said.

Burden explained that the Department of Labor passes out CETA funds in two separate categories — Title I for training programs and Title VI for public service employment.

He said the county's 1975-76 Title I allocation of $967,000 will carry through the fiscal year that ends June 30 and that Berrien is assured of additional Title I funds for the "transitional quarter" of July 1-Sept. 30 until the government converts to a fiscal year running from Oct. 1 to Sept. 30.

Berrien's 1975-76 Title VI allocation of $2,087,000 will pay salaries of CETA employees only through March, however, Burden said, putting in jeopardy the jobs of 394 workers paid with CETA funds.

Title VI funds are granted to areas with unemployment levels over 7 per cent and pay salaries of employees hired by local governments, schools and other non-profit agencies.

Burden said continued Title VI funding apparently rests with expected efforts by the House and Senate to override President Ford's veto last Friday of a bill that would provide for $6 billion nationwide for public service employment.

Even should these efforts succeed, Burden said, he has no idea how much of these funds would be allocated to Berrien county and that it was possible agencies with CETA employees might have to make a decision before new allocations are announced.

Burden said that of 433 prime CETA sponsors in the nation like Berrien county, "about 110-120 are in the same boat we are" and face possible layoffs before the end of the fiscal year.

'Fair Sentence'

WASHINGTON (AP) — G. Gordon Liddy, who led the Watergate burglars and received the longest of all prison terms given for the break-in at the Democratic National Committee offices, received a fair sentence, a federal appeals court says.

WATERVLIIET RESIDENTS OBJECT: About 65 people overflowed Watervliet city commission chambers last night in protest of proposed low-rent apartment development for city's northwest corner. Mayor Arvid Frazier labeled opposition "premature"

Low-Rent Apartment Foes Crowd Watervliet Meeting

WATERVLIIET — An overflow crowd filled the Watervliet city commission chambers last night to object to a proposed low-rent apartment development.

Watervliet Mayor Arvid Frazier labeled the opposition "premature," however, because the developer has not yet acquired the site from the city and no zoning change has been considered.

The developer has proposed construction of three buildings containing 16 apartments on 12 lots in a 127-lot, city-owned subdivision in the city's northwest corner.

The property is zoned for two-family residential use now and would have to be rezoned for apartment use if the project is to be undertaken.

Downey Real Estate, Benton Harbor, has taken an option on the land while determining if the apartment project is feasible.

About 65 people from both the city and township attended the meeting to file their objections. They objected on grounds the development, if allowed, would lower property values, increase school enrollments and bring "undesirables" to the area.

Frazier assured the audience that once the property is sold a public hearing will be held to allow them to express their views again.

Nathan Downey, a partner in Downey Real Estate, said a survey is being taken to determine the need for housing, in order to obtain a federal Farmer's Home administration loan to construct the project.

At present, according to Downey, around 40 interested applicants have been received, with close to 96 applications needed to warrant the project.

The majority of the applicants are people presently residing inside the city limits, with a few from Hartford, and one each from relatives of Watervliet residents living in Benton Harbor, St. Joseph, and Stevensville.

Downey said applicants from Watervliet city and township, Coloma city and township, and Hartford would be considered for renting the apartment development.

Frazier reported the commission was recently made aware of a restriction placed on the subdivision by the original land owners and recorded in April, 1956, in the title policy and abstracts. It restricts building in the area to single family dwellings, unless changed by a vote of the property owners.

City Atty. F.A. (Mike) Jones said that while the city can not enforce restrictions placed on the property, he pointed out the zoning is improper and needs to be changed, which the city zoning board and commission must approve.

In other areas, the commission voted unanimously to support City Treasurer William Rogers in his efforts to collect 2½ years of delinquent personal property taxes allegedly owed by Robert Brant, owner of the Watervliet Furniture store, 115 North Main street.

Jones informed the commission in excess of $3,000 was owed the city and county for back taxes since 1973. The city was awarded a judgment last year of $2,400, which has now increased to over $3,000, Jones said.

4-H Agent Wins Faculty Award

Larry Cushman, Berrien 4-H extension agent, will receive Michigan State university's highest award, a distinguished faculty award, at a ceremony on campus Thursday. He is the only university extension agent among 11 faculty members who will receive the awards from MSU President Clifton R. Wharton, Jr. Each award includes a check for $1,000.

According to the citation for Cushman, youth participation in the Berrien 4-H program has grown six-fold to over 8,000 and volunteer adult leaders have tripled in number to 800 since Cushman took the 4-H post in 1967.

Other accomplishments listed include the use of 4-H educational materials in urban Benton Harbor, establishment of a conservation science program in the local schools and development of the first basic horse science short course, which was a model for the rest of the state.

MSU distinguished faculty awards recognize outstanding contributions in teaching, research or public service.

Cushman holds a bachelor of science degree in agriculture from the University of Connecticut and a master of science degree from MSU. From 1960 to 1967 he was Osceola county 4-H

Announces For Allegan Sheriff

ALLEGAN — A campus patrolman at Western Michigan university, Kalamazoo, has become the first Democrat to announce he is a candidate for Allegan county sheriff in the general elections this year.

Thomas F. Fleming, 30, a life-long resident of Allegan county, said the November elections will be his first attempt at seeking a political office.

Fleming, who was an Allegan deputy from 1967 to 1969, lives on 102nd avenue in Trowbridge township with his wife, Nancy, and two daughters.

Three other candidates, all Republicans, have also announced their candidacy for the sheriff's post. If they file nominating petitions before the June 1 deadline, they will square off for their party nomination in an Aug. 3 primary battle. They are Robert Schra, 37, of rural Hamilton, Alfred (Pat) Carter, 61, of Casco township, and Richard Pathic, 31, of Otsego.

Sheriff Robert Whitcomb, also a Republican, has not announced whether he will seek re-election.

Fleming said he decided to seek the sheriff's office after being urged to do so by a number of residents in the county.

He said that if elected he would work fulltime as sheriff.

THOMAS FLEMING Democratic candidate

A campus patrolman for the past six years, Fleming said he had completed several police training courses including the basic and advanced police academy at Kalamazoo Valley Community college, a juvenile delinquency course, a detective course, and an advanced accident investigation course.

HARTFORD BANK PLEDGES $20,000: Pledge of $20,000 from Van Buren State bank, Hartford, brought total amount pledged for new Watervliet hospital to $180,000. Hartford workers for hospital fund drive gathered Monday as John S. Olds, center, bank president and Hartford community chairman of hospital fund drive, presented pledge to Gordon Knutson,

General Telephone Starts South Haven Construction

SOUTH HAVEN — Two construction Projects to cost an estimated $485,000 are underway in the South Haven exchange of the General Telephone company, according to division manager John G. Ver Beek.

Construction has started on a project to install 15½ miles of cable at a cost of $173,000. Involved will be 8.2 miles of aerial cable and 5.3 miles of buried cable. The new cable will provide facilities for more private lines and also allow for growth in the area, according to Ver Beek.

The company is also adding 48 ticketers in the South Haven central office at an estimated cost of $312,000.

A ticketer records details of long distance calls such as the number dialed and length of call.

Both projects are expected to be completed in April.

Competent Basketball Officials Work Their Way Up

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the second of a three-part series on high school basketball officials in southwestern Michigan. Today's story tells about the qualifications of officials. Tomorrow's story will deal with crowd behavior.

By JERRY DYKSTRA
Staff Sports Writer

A person doesn't become a competent high school basketball official by accident.

Like in any other job, the key to success hinges on preparation, patience, dedication and just a lot of hard work.

The first step in becoming a sanctioned official is passing an open book test administered by the Michigan High School

Athletic Association (M.H.S.A.A.) (M.H.S.A.A.)

The official then usually starts at the bottom by working 7th and 8th grade junior high games to gain valuable experience. Depending on his ability, officials gradually work themselves up the ladder to junior varsity games and eventually high school contests. Some officials can't cut the mustard and are weeded out early.

The local Fruit Belt Officials Association serves as a valuable aid for new officials as well as area athletic directors. The association, which is composed of about 80 officials, functions as a clearing house for referees.

Athletic directors needing basketball officials for their junior high and junior varsity games usually come to the association with their schedules. The association then makes their suggestions of available officials and a contract is usually filled out.

However, at the varsity level officials are picked to work games by the home school athletic director. His selection of what refs to hire is based on many factors, but experience and past performances rate high.

Some officials send out letters advertising their available dates, and athletic directors also seek out particular referees they want to hire. Contracts are then signed, usually about one year before the actual date of the game.

"I usually hire officials on the job I know they usually do and their experience," offers Lakeshore athletic director Denny Knola. "Officials have good and bad days, too. But if I see an official who is constantly out of position or not exercising good judgment, I probably won't hire him back."

Officials are usually hired in pairs. Most referees agree that working with the same partner usually makes for a smoother officiated contest.

Referees are usually paid $20 or $25 a game, but have to pay for their own uniforms and usually for mileage to the games.

Officials are rated by athletic directors, usually in co-operation with the coach, at the end of the season on a one to five scale, with one being the top mark. The rating is set to the M.H.S.A.A. office in Lansing, which comes out with a composite average for each official.

Working a state tournament final contest is a goal of many officials. The M.H.S.A.A. assigns all officials to tournament tilts.

Officials must keep up with rule changes as well as constantly reviewing old rules.

Referees have to attend one state rules meeting a year, while the Fruit Belt Association holds about six basketball rule meetings a year ranging from mechanics to areas of frequent controversy and unusual plays.

While knowledge of the rules and mechanics is essential, that alone doesn't make a competent official.

"A good official needs to be in good physical condition, be alert and have good eyesight," voices Cliff Appelget of Benton Harbor. "He also needs good judgment and have the ability to control the ball game. He has to be able to react instantaneously."

Proper positioning and consistency are also trademarks of good officials. Basketball coaches appreciate referees who call a consistent game from beginning to end.

As with players, the mental part of getting "up" for a game is also important.

"I think each official brings on his own pressure to get up mentally for each game," relates Hank D'Agostino of Benton Harbor. "So officials need to be prepared as the players on the floor in their own special way

Rested Rams Rip Paw Paw

Gamble, Goodwin Key Win

By JERRY DYKSTRA

SOUTH HAVEN — A week's rest was just what the doctor ordered for South Haven.

The Rams, idle since last Tuesday's loss to Dowagiac, revived here Tuesday night by breezing past Paw Paw 79-47 in a Wolverine conference mismatch.

"We really needed that week off," related Ram coach M.H. White. "Those Friday-Saturday games were piling up. I gave the kids Wednesday off after that loss to Dowagiac."

"I think that rest made us a little sharper tonight. The kids were really moving on both offense and defense and quickness is really our game."

South Haven, which has already clinched the Wolverine crown, turned in a superior effort in upping its league mark to 14-0 and overall record to 17-1.

Leading the way were the G-Men of William Gamble and Nathan Goodwin. Gamble tossed in 23 points, 16 in the first half, while Goodwin canned 20.

The classy duo also sparked the deadeye Ram gunning as Goodwin made 10 of 17 shots and Gamble 10 of 18 as the South Haven starters shot 52 per cent afield.

Paw Paw, last in the league at 2-13 and 4-14 overall, again was plagued by woeful shooting (23 per cent) and couldn't put a player in double figures. Bill Gipson with eight points was the top Redskin scorer.

South Haven, the No. 5 rated team in the latest Class B poll, woke up from its rest with a jolt as it blitzed the Redskins 26-6 in the opening period when Mike Grimes scored all of his eight points and Gamble and Goodwin six apiece. The always-tenacious Ram press and overall quickness took its toll on the Skins as they were forced into nine first-quarter turnovers while going only three of 15 outcourt.

The Rams increased their margin to 46-14 at intermission and 71-31 after three periods. White pulled the regulars with 23 seconds left in the third period with the Rams up by 40 points. The biggest South Haven lead was 75-31 early in the finale.

"South Haven played very well...like the No. 5 rated team in the state," commented Paw Paw coach Dave Anderson, who guided the Redskins to the league title last year. "They really put it together tonight. They caught us flat-footed in that first period. If they continue to play in this manner, they certainly have a bright road ahead of them...but there's always a lot of ifs."

White said speed was instrumental in the big win compared to only an 58-49 victory in the first meeting with Paw Paw.

"We didn't use our speed in that first game and we didn't press as much as we did tonight. Tonight we got the ball going on offense and played hustling defense. I thought the press was effective at speeding up the game."

The Rams ended at 40 per cent shooting (35 of 87) due to a poor two of 17 effort by the reserves in the last period. Paw Paw finished at 18 of 77 for 23 per cent. South Haven converted nine of 19 foul shots, Paw Paw 11 of 21.

Ram charts had the winners holding a 62-48 rebound margin with Grimes collecting 12 caroms and Gamble and Mike Williams 10 each. Grimes and Dave Dubas both had six assists. Paw Paw made 23 floor mistakes, South Haven 19, eight in the last period.

The Rams, playing without Ken Cullum who was sick, are now eyeing a record 15 wins in the Wolverine conference. South Haven can collect No. 15 this Friday night at Comstock.

"We'd like to win 15 and get the record," added White. "We'd also like to finish undefeated in the conference."

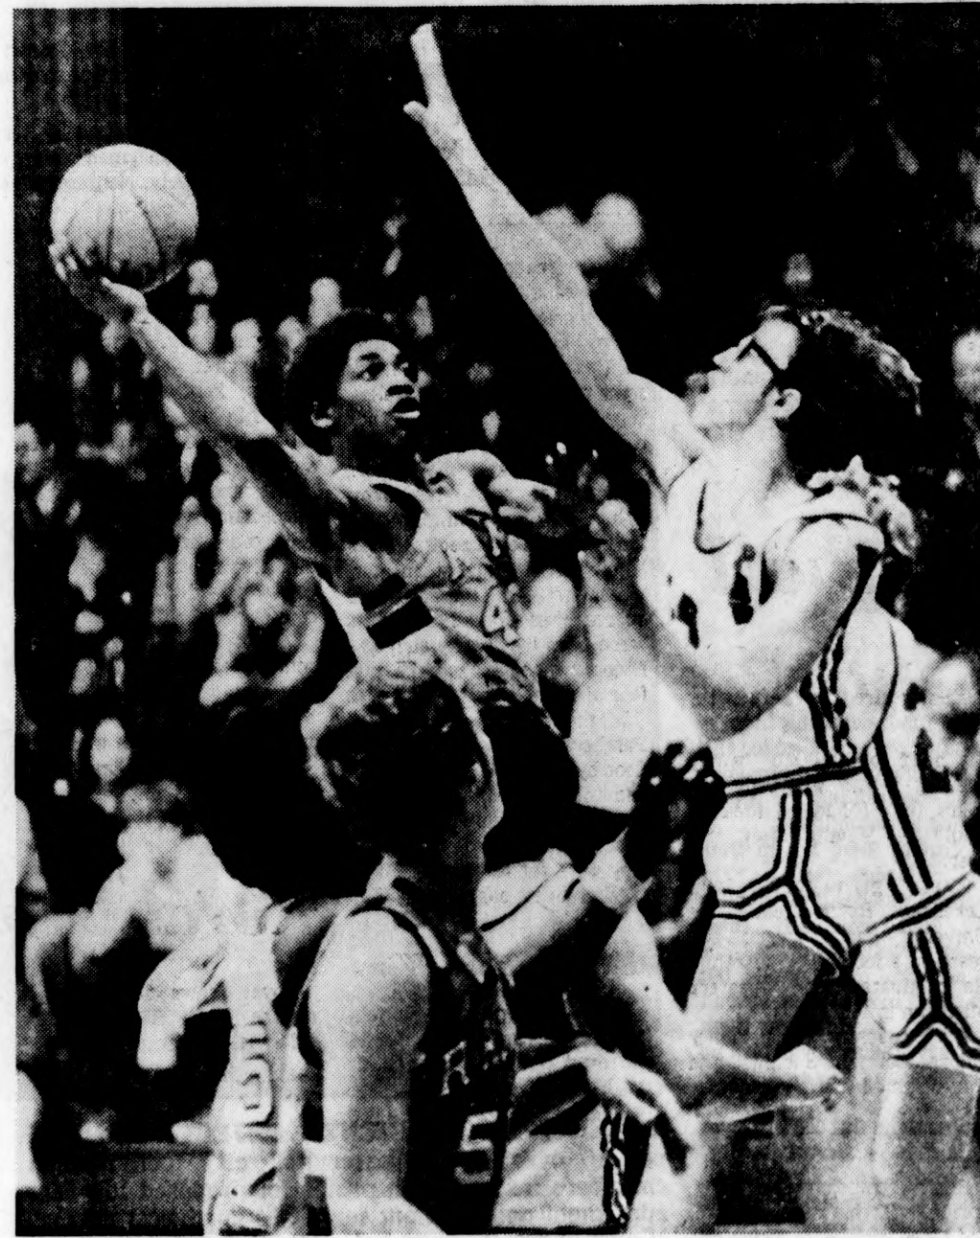

"Right now we're not thinking too much about the tournaments. It's a little too early for that. We're just trying to get sharp. Hopefully we can get a little sharper and a little sharper. I think we're on our way after tonight's game."

Paw Paw, which has lost five straight, is idle until next Tuesday when it travels to Constantine.

The Redskins upped their jayvee record to 11-6 with a 70-66 come-from-behind triumph in the preliminary clash. Paw Paw got 19 points from Craig LaPine, 18 from Jon Ghaslin and Jerry Mitchell and 13 from Don Stull. Perry Palanca poured in 34 for the Rams.

Chet Loses Freedom Bid In Court, Appeal Planned

Chet Walker came up a loser in a court decision Tuesday, but his attorney plans to file an appeal today.

Walker, a former Benton Harbor high school standout, is trying to win his freedom from the Chicago Bulls in order to sign with the Los Angeles Lakers. He hasn't played all season in a contract dispute.

Walker is trying to get his freedom in court, but federal judge Robert Carter of New York issued a preliminary injunction Tuesday prohibiting the National Basketball Association star from pressing his suit in a Philadelphia court.

Judge Carter ruled that since Walker is already a defendant in the Oscar Robertson case, which attacks contract restraints in the NBA, he can't sue in another court on the same issue.

The Bulls says they will consider giving up Walker in a business deal which would give them compensation, such as future draft picks. But they say it has nothing to do with the option clause which binds him to the club.

Wings-Montreal Exhibition Slated

DETROIT (AP) — Montreal Canadiens old timers will provide the opposition for the Detroit Red Wings' old-timer squad Feb. 27 at Olympia Stadium in a charity hockey game.

Maurice "The Rocket" Richard and his brother Henri are expected to be among the former Canadian greats who'll play.

Red Wings Alumni Association members who helped set up the game include Bill Gadsby, Jerry Abel, Jim Peters and Norm Smith.

'Miss' Costly To Islanders

Kings Are Not Bothered By Disallowed Goal

From Associated Press

A goal that was disallowed in New York proved helpful to the New York Rangers; one that was disallowed in Los Angeles didn't make much difference at all to the Kings.

A shot by New York Islanders rookie center Bryan Trottier got past New York Rangers goalie John Davidson Tuesday night, but a linesman had blown his whistle for an offside infraction an eyeblink before — nullifying the goal.

It would have meant a lot, since the Rangers were ahead 1-0 at the time. They went on to defeat the Islanders 3-1, with the last goal skimming into an empty net after the Islanders had pulled their goalie to try for a tie. If the goal had counted in that second period, the Islanders would not have had to pull their goalie.

It was the fourth goal called back against the Islanders in their last six National Hockey League games.

A shot by Los Angeles defenseman Gary Sargent eluded Minnesota netminder Cesare Maniago with 16:06 left in the second period, but referee Bruce Hood ruled his whistle had blown before the puck entered the net.

The disallowed goal didn't faze the Kings in the least. Vic Venasky won the resulting faceoff back to defenseman Bob Berry, whose shot was in the net — legitimately, this time — just five seconds after the first goal had been wiped out. It was the winning score in a 2-1 Los Angeles triumph over the North Stars.

In the other NHL contest Tuesday night, the Philadelphia Flyers and Vancouver Canucks tied 2-2, and the Pittsburgh Penguins bombed the Kansas City Scouts 6-1.

Rick Middleton scored the winning goal and had an assist as the Rangers conquered the Islanders for the first time in five meetings dating back to last year's playoffs. Bill Harris scored midway through the third period for the Islanders, who have won only once in their last seven games.

Mike Murphy opened the scoring for Los Angeles, which handed Minnesota its eighth consecutive loss. Dean Talafou converted a slick pass from Pierre Jarry for the lone North Stars tally.

Dennis Verweert's pass from behind Flyers netminder Wayne Stephenson turned in the tying goal when the puck deflected off Stephenson's skate and entered the cage during an early third-period power play.

Bob Kelly scored two goals and Pierre Larouche contributed three assists to the Pittsburgh victory over Kansas City.

NORWALK, Conn. (AP) — Golfers were either better or just luckier in 1975 than the year before. There were 25,37 aces made during 1975, an increase of almost 1,000 over 1974's total, Golf Digest reported in its March issue.

Big 10 To Get McAfee, Walls

Eau Claire's Don McAfee and Brandywine's Daryl Walls, all-state football running backs, will be continuing their careers in the Big Ten.

McAfee signed a national and Big Ten letter of intent today to attend Purdue while Walls signed with Iowa. Both will receive full football scholarships.

According to Eau Claire football coach Paul Bergan, Boilermaker head coach Alex Agase said McAfee has the fastest feet he had seen on film. Agase also said McAfee would fit into Purdue's plans immediately as a running back.

Iowa coach Bud Commings visited Walls recently and indicated the Bobcat star would be tried at fullback. Walls now weighs 210 pounds.

Walls and McAfee were the top rushers in southwestern Michigan last fall with 1,604 and 1,585 yards, respectively. McAfee also was the area's top scorer with 136 points.

Comet Rally Falls Short Free Throws Help Panthers Nip Coloma

BY PAUL MORGAN
Staff Sports Writer

COLOMA — It's hard for a cage team to give up 18 points in the first half on free throws and then come back to make a game of it...but that's exactly what Coloma did.

After playing more like a football team in the initial half, the Comet cagers came back to give Watervliet a scare, but the Panthers were able to hold on for a 70-61 win Tuesday night here in a non-conference clash.

That first half was nothing but a nightmare for Sam Wright's charges, as they committed 13 fouls, allowed the Panthers to go to the free throw line 24 times and eventually fell behind by a 39-21 score at the intermission. "They were tight in the first half," said Wright. "We made some mental physical mistakes. But in the second half, they came out wanting to play ball."

Watervliet was more than happy to go to the free throw line to score its points, as the Panthers floor shooting was below par in the first quarter. Watervliet led 18-9 after one quarter, but 10 of those points came from the charity stripe as it could manage to make just four of 18 shots from the floor.

In the second quarter, the Panthers warmed up from the floor by hitting seven of 14 tries and then made seven of nine free throw attempts. "We were attacking the boards better and they were out of position," Watervliet head cage coach Ken Marzka Sr. commented. "I also think our pressure hurt them."

The full court press that the Panthers used forced the Comets, now 2-16 this season, into making 13 of their 20 turnovers in the first half. On the other hand, Marzka's squad made just seven miscues.

In the second half, however, Joe Jones notched 13 of his game-high 21 points and Gregg Woodward started hitting the boards and Coloma was on its way back. "I think the kids just settled down and started playing basketball in the second half," said Wright. "They started to set up the offense and it paid off."

Watervliet, playing mostly juniors, kept its composure. With 2:20 left, Woodward hit a 10-foot bank shot from the left side to bring the Comets to within nine at 64-55, so Marzka immediately called a time out.

It did the trick as the Panthers notched the next five points to lead 69-55 and put the contest out of reach.

Marzka wasn't too pleased with his team's efforts earlier in the fourth quarter, though. "When we needed to put it away, we turned the ball over three times," he moaned. "But we're still young and still learning."

Wright was happy with the way his team, five of the top seven members being juniors, came back. "The kids wanted to play ball, wanted to come back and I'm proud of them for that," he said.

He also said that the fact that Jerry Gagliardo and Joel Carlson were out with the flu might have added to the first-half jitters.

Tom Hutchinson led Watervliet, now 8-10 this season, with 17 points and 11 rebounds. Chuck Brock added 16 points and Jon Hinkelman had 13.

Watervliet shot 40 per cent from the floor, making 24 of 60 attempts while Coloma cashed in on 25 of 63 tries for 39.7 per cent. The Panthers were guilty of 18 turnovers.

Dick Bartz New Football Coach At Berrien Springs

Bartz, the former Galien mentor, was named today as head coach of the Berrien Springs Shamrocks, replacing Al Bush, who recently resigned.

"I'm looking forward to getting back into competing again with some of the coaches in the conference, particularly guys like Terry Rose (Lake Michigan Catholic) and Jerry Barchett

DICK BARTZ

Bartz, 33, compiled a 27-29-1 record in seven seasons at Galien — the smallest school in the Red Arrow — and now has the advantage of being at the league's largest school.

"I'm really inheriting what I think is a real sound program, fundamentally," continues Bartz. "And on top of that, I have 20 seniors returning next fall. I think we have the potential to have a very successful team."

Bartz, who was an assistant last fall under Bush, after coming from Galien, is planning some changes in strategy.

"I was handling the defense, so we are doing what I want to do defensively (Michigan's 6-2)," continues the former Lakeshore high school standout. "But we will change the offense. I have to coach what I know. Basically, we will probably use the wing-T. And I like to throw the ball. (Berrien operated out of an I-formation last fall.)"

Bartz, who is a middle school counselor, says he came to Berrien Springs with hopes that the head football job "would open up in the next couple of years, but I had no idea Al would be leaving after this year."

After graduating from Lakeshore, Bartz attended the University of Colorado two years on a football scholarship. He graduated from Western Michigan in 1965.

Bartz resides in Berrien Springs with his wife, Marilyn, and three sons, Ron, Kevin and Danny.

Laker Frosh Win

Lake Michigan Catholic's freshmen cagers posted a 45-44 win over Hartford Monday in the Lakers' gym. Leading the way for the Lakers were John Masini with 16 points and Randy Fish with 11. Game-high honors went to the Indians' Greg Rosenberg with 18 points. Catholic is now 11-2 in the Red Arrow conference.

Royal Crown Champs

Royal Crown Cola wrapped up the South Branch YMCA volleyball championship by beating the Pick Ups 15-5, 9-15, 15-8.

Members of the Royal Crown Cola team, which finished at 28-2 in the league, are Gil Migala, Al Drevs, Bill Batson, Mike Petlick, Ted Hudak, John Kubizna and Dave Ohman.

Other action saw Arden United Methodist sweep past Lakeshore Baptist 15-11, 15-12, 15-9 behind Dan Graber and Ken Nye.

Men Plus One, paced by Dudley Gray and Ken Warner, took three from Bargain Center 15-13, 15-7, 15-4.

The league will hold a single elimination tournament next week.

Vikings Slip Past Mattawan

MATTAWAN — Short-handed Bangor slipped by Mattawan 57-56 in non-league basketball action here Tuesday night.

The Vikings started without regulars John Dentzman (sprained ankle) and Carl Johnson (sore throat) and then lost starters Skyler Morgan and Ricky Ross on fouls in the fourth quarter.

Bangor entered the fourth quarter with a commanding 44-29 lead but almost let it get away.

"We were lucky to get out of there," declared Viking coach Mike Witt. "But I can't fault them (Bangor's reserves) because they haven't played that much."

Morgan finished with 22 points and 11 rebounds and Ross added 13 points and nine rebounds as Bangor upped its record to 12-6.

Mattawan, now 3-15, got 15 points from Jim Neubauer, 12 from Bill Moyle and 10 apiece from Greg Bowman and Frank Mudo.

Bangor built its needed cushion in the third quarter while scoring 22 points. "We started running our offense and got some decent buckets," added Witt. "That made the difference. Otherwise, we would have been bad."

Bangor made 24 of 52 field goals (46 per cent) and nine of 24 free throws (38 per cent). Mattawan went 21 for 56 from the floor (39 per cent) and 14 for 25 at the line (56 per cent).

Bangor charts had the Vikings with a 31 to 24 rebounding advantage. Bangor had 22 turnovers and Mattawan 13.

Aeros Edge New England
HOUSTON (AP) — Houston Aeros left wing Andre Hinse picked a perfect time for his 27th goal of the World Hockey Association season.

It came with 11 seconds left in regulation play and brought the Aeros back after they had led by 3-1 against the New England Whalers earlier in the Tuesday night contest.

"It never should have been that close," said Aeros Coach Bill Dineen. "We had them, then let them come back."

As overtime approached, Larry Hale fired from the right point, Larry Lund tried a follow shot and Hinse — with Whalers' goalie Bruce Landon out of position — poked in the winning goal for the 4-3 decision.

In other WHA games, Quebec topped San Diego 5-2, Minnesota topped Toronto 6-3, and Edmonton tied Winnipeg 4-4.

Suing Goodyear Tire, Bell Helmets

Donahue Heirs Seek $20 Million

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP) — Heirs to race driver Mark Donahue, who was fatally injured while practicing for the 1975 Austrian Grand Prix, are suing Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co. and Bell Helmets Inc. for $20 million.

The suit, entered in Providence Superior Court on behalf of Donahue's widow and two children, claims there were serious defects in the tires and safety helmet Donahue was using when injured.

Donahue died from a blood clot in his brain two days after his Formula 1 racer hurtled off the track Aug. 17 while on a practice run prior to the Austrian Grand Prix in Graz, Austria. He was quoted in news reports following the crash as telling crew members that the left front tire blew out while the car was traveling about 160 miles per hour through a turn.

The suit states that Donahue, a graduate of Brown University here, received a severe blow on the side of his helmet when the car crashed through four rows of fences.

"The damages were based on his earning potential," said attorney Leonard Decof on Tuesday. "Mark Donahue had a very high income. Not only was he a front-line racing driver who was also an engineer, but he had lots of contracts in the automotive area."

Decof said he filed suit at the request of David Lawton of Lincoln, R.I., executor of Donahue's estate, on behalf of Carmen Eden Donahue, the driver's widow, and the couple's two sons.

He said the action was filed in a Rhode Island court Monday because Lawton is a resident of this state and because both Goodyear and Bell do business here.

Goodyear tires used by Donahue failed to withstand "reasonably foreseeable stress and strain conditions while racing at high speeds."

Goodyear is also accused of failing to properly test, examine and inspect the tires as well as warn Donahue of possible shortcomings. The suit said this failure resulted in Donahue's death. It further alleges that Donahue's helmet "failed to adequately and properly protect and guard" him from serious injury.

Versace Among Top Candidates

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — Dick Versace, an assistant coach at Michigan State, is among leading candidates for the University of Wisconsin basketball job.

Otto Breitenbach, assistant UW athletic director, said, however, that applications are still being received and that no decisions have been made on finalists for the post being vacated by John Powless.

Versace, 34, has been an assistant to Michigan State's Gus Ganakas the past two seasons. He is a graduate of Madison (Wisc.) Edgewood high school, where he later coached.

Others who have been mentioned for the Wisconsin post include Tom Nissalke, a scout for the Milwaukee Bucks; Iowa State coach Ken Trickey, and St. Joseph's (Ind.) coach John Weinert.

Trail Blazers Also Last With Referees

Marin Sparks Bulls' OT Win

From ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Portland Trail Blazers are not only last in the National Basketball Association's Pacific Division — but also last in the minds of the referees.

At least Lenny Wilkens thinks so. "I think the officials did their jobs tonight," said the Portland coach after a 116-113 loss to the Buffalo Braves, "but the calls seem to go the other way when you're a last-place team."

Wilkens had two specific calls in mind. Both times, Buffalo's Bob McAdoo drove to a basket in the closing minutes and both times, the Trail Blazers were called for defensive fouls. The NBA's leading scorer took advantage of the situation and cashed in four free throws to help turn the game around.

"McAdoo was able to do what he wanted," Wilkens said. "He's a great player and he doesn't need any advantages. The calls were questionable. I thought on one of them my man was standing in there all the time. Is he supposed to disappear? He turned and hit Lloyd Neal's shoulder. That was obvious. But what can you do? You can't make a federal case about it."

The Braves were losing by 108-102 with less than three minutes to go but later closed it to 108-107 with 1:53 left with the help of McAdoo's four foul shots. Big Mac later hit a baseline jumper and a free throw to give him 42 points for the night and help the Braves pull away.

Elsewhere in the NBA, it was Chicago 114, Phoenix 111; Kansas City 125, Philadelphia 107; Los Angeles 115, New Orleans 101; Washington 113, Milwaukee 112; Golden State 114, New York 96 and Cleveland 112, Atlanta 92.

Jack Marin, hitting a season-high 34 points, connected for eight in the final 1:21 of overtime to lead Chicago over Phoenix.

"I'm finally getting into the flow of the offense," says Marin, who was traded to Chicago earlier this season from Buffalo. Nate Archibald scored a game-high 33 points, enabling Kansas City to snap a five-game losing streak by beating Philadelphia.

Kareem Abdul-Jabbar and Gail Goodrich scored 28 points apiece to lead Los Angeles over New Orleans.

Phil Chenier poured in a season-high 42 points as Washington, 11 points down late in the third quarter, rallied to nip Milwaukee.

Rick Barry scored 20 of his game-high 34 points in the second half, helping to rally Golden State over New York and give the Warriors a sweep of their four-game season series with the Knicks.

Campy Russell scored 23 points and Bobby Smith added 22 — 14 in the second half — as Cleveland routed Atlanta for its sixth straight victory.

Covert Maintains High Point Pace

91-61 Win Over Lutheran Fifth Straight Victory

COVERT — Covert, the highest scoring team in southwestern Michigan, remained in high gear while rolling over Michigan Lutheran 91-61 in non-league basketball action here Tuesday night.

The Bulldogs, who carried an 83.2 average into the game, got 25 points from James DeBoe, 20 from Rodney Barnes and 17 from Jeff Maggett while winning their fifth straight.

Michigan Lutheran, now 7-12 with three-game losing skid, got 14 points from John Brink, 13 from Randy Wolf and 11 from Kirk Harsch.

Covert jumped off to an 18-13 first quarter lead before blitzing Lutheran with 51 points the middle two quarters.

"Basically, it was our pressure defense," declared Covert coach Rod DeYoung on the outcome. "And we played well together, particularly in the second and third quarters."

Covert meshed 35 of 76 field goals (46 per cent), with Barnes making of 15, DeBoe 10 of 20 and Maggett six of 13. The Bulldogs also connected on 21 of 34 free throws (62 per cent).

Michigan Lutheran meshed 25 of 65 from the floor (38 per cent) and 11 of 17 at the line (65 per cent).

Covert took a 48 to 35 rebounding edge, including 10 by Robert Maggard. The turnover statistic showed Lutheran with 30 and Covert with 20.

In the junior varsity preliminary, the Covert jayvees rolled up their highest score of the season in a 104-50 triumph. The little Bulldogs, now 15-4, got 23 points from Jerry Starks, 20 from Jeff DeYoung and 18 from Terry Crump.

New Prairie's Spurt Scares Valley

NEW PRAIRIE — River Valley found that having a huge halftime lead doesn't guarantee a cage team of winning the game.

The Mustangs squandered a 39-22 halftime lead and just did beat a pesky New Prairie, Ind. team 67-64 here in non-conference basketball Tuesday night.

The win evens River Valley's record at 9-9 this season and is its fourth straight.

"In the first half, we were able to get the high percentage shot off against their zone defense," commented River Valley head coach Jerry Schaffer.

outscored their foes 23-10.

But the second half, especially the fourth quarter, was a totally different story. Dennis Rzepka of New Prairie notched 12 of his game-high 31 points in the last quarter and "they just got hot and outscored us badly," Schaffer said.

"We got a little careless in the last part of the game," he added. "They were gambling and would foul us but we couldn't hit the free throws. We missed 10 free throws in the last quarter."

River Valley held its composure near the end and the three-point final margin was as close as New Prairie could come.

Greg Johnson led a good, balanced Mustang scoring attack with 23 points, 16 of them coming in the first half. Teammates in double figures included Dave North with 17 and Dave Rieth had 11.

John Zolman was the only other New Prairie player in double digits, scoring 12 points.

The Mustangs made 23 of 52 shots from the floor for 44 per cent while their foes cashed in on 27 of 69 field goal tries for 39 per cent. River Valley held a 26-23 rebound edge with Kevin Griffendorf pulling down 11 boards.

In the junior varsity contest,

River Valley pulled out a 44-43 win with Steve Nash scoring 14 and JoJo White 12 for the winners.

Raiders' Rally Keeps Winning Streak Going

DECATUR — Decatur had to rally in the last quarter to keep its basketball winning streak going Tuesday night.

The Raiders went to a half court zone press in the final period, erased a three-point deficit and downed Hopkins 81-73.

The non-league victory extended Decatur's winning streak to 11 straight and left the Raiders at 16-2 on the season. Hopkins is now 7-10.

Kurt Wiese, who stood No. 3 among southwestern Michigan scorers going into the game with a 20.8 average, again led all scorers with 29 points.

But teammates Jim Overley and Steve Groendyk had better shooting nights while adding 19 and 17 points, respectively.

Overley meshed eight of 15 field goals and Groendyk seven of 11 as Decatur meshed 35 of 74 overall (47 per cent). The Raiders also hit on 11 of 19 free throws (58 per cent).

Hopkins got 27 points from Henry Chachulski, 23 from Phil

Arndt and 13 from Tom Pawloski while connecting on 32 of 63 from the floor (51 per cent) and nine of 14 at the line (64 per cent).

Hopkins had a 37 to 28 rebounding edge, with Overley leading the Raiders with 11.

"We've got to play a little better than we did tonight if we are going to win Friday night against Bloomingdale," commented Decatur coach Tom Gibson.

Decatur shares the SAC lead with Marcellus at 9-1, but Bloomingdale is close behind at 8-2.

Lawrence Posts Highest Score, Loses To Mendon

LAWRENCE — Lawrence scored its most points of the season but still couldn't avoid its sixth straight defeat here Tuesday night.

The Tigers fell behind 24-11 after the first period and never could recover and dropped an 81-69 decision to Mendon in a non-league encounter. The 81 points were also the most scored against Lawrence this year.

Lawrence, now 2-15 overall, trailed by as many as 20 points in the first half but came back in the last half to cut the gap to 10 points.

Seattle Baseball Trial Adjourned

EVERETT, Wash. (AP) — Judge Frank Howard adjourned the Seattle baseball trial Tuesday and told the jury that "for all practical purposes" the $32.5 million suit against the American League is over.

He signed orders ending the proceedings but continuing the suit's life until April 1977.

The Tigers put four players in twin digits with Dave Congdon swishing 17, Jim Mason 16 and Dennis Kidd and Jim Garrod 10 each. Garrod collected all his in the last period.

Mendon, now 9-9, was paced by Dan Kennedy and Dan Batten. Both hit 22 points.

Lawrence was 27 of 69 afired for 39 per cent and Mendon 32 of 69 for 46 per cent. The Tigers hit 15 of 22 free throws, Mendon 17 of 24.

Mendon held a 41-29 rebounding margin with Al Avery getting 17 rebounds for the winners.

Moeller Rips Gobles

GOBLES — Southwestern Michigan scoring leader Marc Moeller topped the 30-point mark for the 10th time this season while leading Fennville to an 80-51 non-league victory over Gobles here Tuesday night.

The 6-4 senior, who entered the game with a 29.0 average, netted 36 while matching his second-highest effort of the campaign.

Teammate Terry Morse added 11 points as the Blackhawks won their third straight and put their record at 11-6. Gobles, which entered the game as the area's lowest scoring team (43.9 average), is now 4-13 and the loser of three in a row.

Moeller, who has now hit in double figures in 38 consecutive games, had 20 the first half as Fennville posted leads of 15-6 after the first quarter and 35-23 at halftime. The Blackhawks then erased all doubts about the outcome with a 29 to 13 scoring advantage in the third period.

Fennville also won the junior varsity preliminary 59-54.

Horton Happy After Signing

DETROIT (AP) — Willie Horton says he's happy after signing for a reported $105,000 to become the highest-paid player in the history of the Detroit Tigers.

"I didn't get everything I wanted," Horton said after signing Tuesday. "But I'm happy with what I got."

The Tiger outfielder had originally asked for $140,000, which would have put him in the same category with newly-acquired Tiger Rusty Staub.

Staub soon will put his name on a 1976 contract for about $145,000, so Horton's "highest-paid" title won't stand for long.

The veteran Tiger slugger had threatened to play out his option and become a free agent if the club didn't meet his demands.

But Tuesday, he agreed to the lower amount offered by Tiger General Manager Jim Campbell, who had started the bidding from a sub-$100,000 figure. "We told him we had made our final offer and I think Willie realized we meant it," said Campbell. "We don't usually announce signings, but there has been so much publicity in this case that we thought it best to get everything out in the open."

None of the big names in Tiger history have been paid as much as the $105,000 per year total.

Staub and catcher Bill Freehan are the only two Tigers who have not yet signed.

Evert Defeats Romanian In First Detroit Match

DETROIT (AP) — Top-seeded Chris Evert defeated Mariana Simionescu of Romania, 6-2 and 6-4 in opening day action of the Detroit stop of the Women's Professional Tennis Tour on Tuesday night.

Miss Evert won the first set handily, but fell behind 3-4 before staging a comeback to win the second set in her first appearance in Detroit and her first contest ever against Miss Simionescu.

In other first-day competition, Trish Faulkner of Detroit upset Helen Gourlay of Australia, 6-4 and 6-3. Miss Gourlay is a regular on the tournament circuit.

Isa Fernandez of Colombia defeated Regina Marsikova of Czechoslovakia, 6-7, 6-4 and 6-4. Elly Vessies of Holland defeated Rayni Fox of Miami 4-6, 6-1 and 6-2, and Carrie Meyer of Indiana won over Diane Fromholtz of Australia, 4-6, 6-1 and 6-2.

Also, Marita Redondo of California defeated Renata Tomanova of Czechoslovakia, 6-2 and 6-2; Ann Kiyomura of California defeated Florenta Mihai of Romania, 6-4 and 6-2; Cynthia Doerner of Australia beat Julie Anthony of California 6-3, 2-6 and 6-3; Greer Stevens of South Africa defeated Valerie Ziegenfuss of California, 6-3 and 7-5, and Pam Teeguarden of Los Angeles defeated Kathy Kuykendall of Miami, 7-5 and 6-3.

The tour is also called the Virginia Slims Circuit, sponsored nationally by Philip Morris Inc. and locally by the Metro Detroit Ford Dealers.

Redmond Leg Tests Scheduled

DETROIT (AP) — Right wing Mickey Redmond of the Detroit Red Wings was scheduled to report today to Ann Arbor's University Hospital for an extensive examination to determine what therapy he should undergo for his numb right leg.

The two-time 50-goal scorer will be examined by Drs. Robert Bailey and James A. Taren, who originally performed an operation on Redmond's back.

Wings general manager Alex Delvecchio said no further announcement would be made regarding the Redmond situation until the results of the examination are known.

Redmond was suspended by the Wings a week ago and placed on irrevocable waivers, making him available to any team for the usual $30,000 waiver price.

Two weeks ago, Redmond was tested by doctors at Minnesota's Mayo Clinic and later given three choices — retire, play with pain or undertake a therapy program.

Redmond has complained of lack of feeling and numbness in his right leg since the end of January. The numbness in his leg is believed to be the result of the back operation.

Ladies Golf Event Slated Sept. 3-5

NEW YORK (AP) — The third richest event on the Ladies Professional Golfers Association tour — the $100,000 Jerry Lewis Muscular Dystrophy Classic — will be held Sept. 3-5 in Springfield, Ill. The lucrative, 54-hole event will be conducted at the Rail Golf Club, according to LPGA Commissioner Ray Volpe.

Gallon Sparks Louisville OT Win

LOUISVILLE (AP) — The Louisville Cardinals celebrated their return to the Top 20 by pulling the same shenanigans that last month cost them a spot among the nation's college basketball elite.

The 19th-ranked Cardinals, just short of miserable in the first half, needed some halftime psychology by Coach Denny Crum, a couple of lucky bounces and an overtime to down 16-time loser Tulsa 98-90 Tuesday night.

In the end, Louisville won its 11th straight game and boosted its record to 18-4 because 6-11 center Ricky Gallon took Crum's hint to heart. Limited to two layups and no rebounds in the first half, Gallon exploded for 21 points and six rebounds in the second half.

"Coach was waiting for us (in the locker room)," said Gallon of the halftime showdown. "All he said was, 'I'm through with it,' and then walked out of the locker room and shut the door. "That had a great effect on me," added Gallon with a sheepish grin.

With an inspired Gallon taking control underneath, Louisville moved from a 40-31 halftime deficit into a 62-62 tie with 9:09 left in regulation. The Cards led by as many as four points down the stretch, but Tulsa fought back on the scoring of Dan O'Leary, who finished with 19 points.

The Golden Hurricanes had a chance to win the game in the final seconds, but Tom Vincent had two of three free throws bounce out before canning the one that tied matters 88-88 at the end of regulation.

Louisville got its act together in the extra period. Gallon hit a layup, Rick Wilson scored on a rebound and a steal and reserve Danny Brown hit a pair of free throws for a safe 94-86 lead with 1:41 left.

Elsewhere in college basketball, Berry Davis scored 27 points as Texas A&M, playing without two ineligible players, Jarvis Williams and Karl Godino, held off Houston 94-80; Mike Russell and Grant Dues sparked a second-half rally to carry Texas Tech past Baylor 87-76; Maurice Cheeks and Melvin Jones teamed for 47 points to pace Texas over North Texas State 96-87; Fairfield beat Long Island University 111-93.

ST. JOSEPH

Grocery Break-In Suspects In Court

Two teenagers charged with breaking into a St. Joseph grocery over the weekend demanded preliminary examinations yesterday in Berrien Fifth District court.

Jailed under bonds of $2,000 were Terry D. Eastman, 17, of Sawyer, and Raymond W. Terpening, 19, of Avery road, Three Oaks. They are charged with the Feb. 14 burglary of some $2,000 in money and merchandise from Damaske's grocery store. Terpening also pleaded guilty to a separate charge of trespassing Feb. 5 in Three Oaks and was sentenced to fine and costs of $35.

Also demanding examinations were:

Richard F. Huston, 17, of Central road, Coloma, charged with assault with intent to do great bodily harm, less than murder, against Andrew Gerhardt Feb. 15 at Gerhardt's residence, Coloma township. He was freed on $3,500 bond.

Sammie Foster Jr., 21, of 2159 Holly road, and John R. Gonzales, 20, of 346 Vernon, both of Benton township, both charged with resisting arrest Feb. 13 in Benton township. They were jailed under bonds of $3,500.

Robert A. Osborn, 21, of 1293 Parkway, Benton township, charged with armed robbery of Cecil Ragsdale the night of Oct. 9 at the night deposit window of Inter-City bank's Nickerson avenue branch. Bond of $25,000 was not posted.

William R. Moss, 35, of 504 Territorial, Benton Harbor, charged with possession of amphetamines Feb. 14 in Benton township. He posted $5,000 bond and was freed.

Pearlene Tobar, 18, of 117 Fulton street, apartment 5, Buchanan, charged with carrying a concealed pistol Feb. 15 in Niles township. She did not post $1,500 bond.

Add Another
Trident Sub

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon says it is increasing the number of oversized Trident missile-firing submarines it plans to build to 11, from the 10 originally scheduled.

Disclosure came Tuesday in a report which said the projected total cost of the Trident program rose by $2.038 billion in the three months ended Dec. 31. This was about 40 per cent of a total $5,030,500,000 rise in the estimated cost of 41 major weapons programs in that period.

Suspect Pleads
Innocent To 2nd
Shooting Charge

A Gary man yesterday pleaded innocent in Berrien Circuit court to a charge of shooting at the wife of a Benton Harbor police detective at the same time he allegedly shot the detective.

Entering the plea to a charge of assault with intent to murder before Judge Julian E. Hughes was Maurice H. Carter, 31, who was remanded to the county jail in lieu of $100,000 bonds to await trial.

He is charged with shooting at Mrs. Ruth Schadler Dec. 20, 1973, at Harbor Wigs and Record shop in downtown Benton Harbor. She was not injured.

Carter has already pleaded innocent to a charge of assault with intent to murder Det. Thomas Schadler, who was shot six times while he and his wife were Christmas shopping. Schadler has since recovered and returned to duty.

Police investigated the shooting for over two years before arresting Carter on Jan. 5 in Gary.

In other arraignments before Hughes:

Two Chicago women charged in an alleged "pigeon drop" confidence scheme pleaded innocent to charges of larceny by conversion. Pleading innocent were Evelyn Dorsey, 27, and Tanya A. Reed, 25.

The women are accused of fraudulently converting $6,000, owned by Betty Craig, to their own use Jan. 23 at the K-Mart parking lot in Benton Harbor.

David E. Myers, 18, of South Bend, pleaded guilty to larceny in a building — the theft of records and an amplifier Nov. 21 from The Record Joint in Belle Plaza, Niles township.

Aaron Dudley, 17, of 433 Washington avenue, Benton Harbor, pleaded guilty to entering without breaking a store at 400 Highland avenue on Nov. 2.

Raymond A. Keys, 49, of Grand Rapids, pleaded guilty to attempting to carry a concealed weapon — a revolver — Sept. 28, 1974, on I-196 in Hagar township.

John M. Collard, 17, of Wagner road, Buchanan, pleaded guilty to entering without breaking the home of Max Nitz on Hinchman road in Berrien Springs on Oct. 20.

Ronald R. Lewis, 22, of Cherry street, Coloma, pleaded innocent to a charge of armed robbery, and Richard H. Huff, 21, of 3423 Hicks avenue, Benton township, pleaded guilty to larceny from a person in connection with the alleged theft of $89 at riflepoint Oct. 27 from John McDaniel, at the Rainbow lounge in Watervliet township.

John E. Peek, 40, of Hinchman road, Berrien Springs, pleaded innocent to a charge of assault with intent to do great bodily harm less than murder Jan. 24 in connection with an alleged knife assault on Jack Mix at 804 Pleasant street, St. Joseph.

Charles L. Bunting, Jr., 28, of 761 Ridgeway, Benton Harbor, pleaded innocent to a charge of delivery of marijuana second offense Jan. 27 in Benton township.

Dwight C. Williams, 25, of 312 Territorial road, Benton Harbor, pleaded innocent to a charge of delivery of heroin Nov. 3 in Benton Harbor.

Aid Bill Will Win Approval

WASHINGTON (AP) — A $3.05-billion foreign aid bill imposing new restrictions on military assistance and tightening congressional control of U.S. arms sales abroad will win Senate approval, its sponsors say.

The Senate is expected to vote today on the measure which authorizes funding for a $4.4-billion program of military grant aid, military credit sales and security supporting assistance, primarily for Middle East countries.

Israel is to receive $2.2 billion for the 12 months ending June 30, Egypt $700 million, Jordan $192 million and Syria $50 million.

Wounded Suspect
Demands Hearing

A burglary suspect who was wounded by a policeman's shotgun blast early Sunday morning was arraigned by Berrien Fifth District Judge John T. Hammond Monday in Mercy hospital.

Demanding preliminary examination was Marvin W. Singleton (also known as Black), 32, of 426 Washington street, Benton Harbor. He is charged with breaking and entering the Sunset tavern, Red Arrow highway, Benton township.

Following arraignment Singleton remained under arrest at Mercy hospital, where he is being treated for shotgun pellet wounds to the left arm and shoulder. He failed to post $5,000 bond.

Singleton was allegedly shot by a Benton township patrolman investigating a burglar alarm at the tavern. Patrolman Roger Spencer reported that he saw a man inside the tavern and called to him to come out. The man reportedly ran out of the tavern, away from the officer, and did not heed the officer's orders to halt.

Police reports said Spencer fired one shot from a 12 gauge shotgun at the suspect.

Credit Union At Heath Reports

Heath Employees Credit Union, St. Joseph, reported increases in total assets, member savings and loans at the annual meeting Feb. 13 at Ramada Inn, Benton township. Treasurer-manager Angie Walters said 1975 total assets climbed to $1,925,000, an increase of 11 per cent, loans totaled $1,817,901, up 19 per cent, and share and deposit accounts were $1,713,614, up 12 per cent. Membership was 1,715.

The credit union paid 5 1/2 per cent dividends for the first three quarters and 5 3/4 per cent dividends the last quarter of 1975. A 6 per cent dividend was paid on deposit accounts. Share accounts totaled $1,562,249.32 and deposit accounts, which have different regulations, totaled $151,364.96.

The credit union paid a 28 per cent rebate on 1975 loan interest. This was down from 30 per cent paid in 1974 but still among the highest paid by any credit union in southwestern Michigan, Miss Walters said.

Re-elected were Richard Shadler, president; Al Robertson, vice president; Miss Walters, treasurer-manager; and Myrtle Kaeding, secretary. Re-elected to the board was Gary Covert while Dennis Scharnowski was re-elected to the credit committee.

POLICE ROUNDUP

Hagar Party Store
Burglary Probed

State police of the Benton Harbor post said cigarettes and about six bottles of liquor were stolen from the Oasis Party store, US-33, Hagar township, in a burglary early today.

The break-in was discovered shortly after 1 a.m. by troopers on patrol. Troopers found a rear window broken out. Police said it appeared the thief left just ahead of police because fresh tracks were found and some cigarettes and liquor were found a short distance from the store. Troopers reported efforts at tracking were hampered by rain.

The party store was the scene of the robbery-slaying of store owner John Govatos in January, 1975.

A citizens' band radio, valued at $170, was reported stolen from the pickup truck of Robert Camp, 5005 Cherry street, Coloma, parked in a lot in the 2300 block of M-139, Benton township, Berrien sheriff's deputies said.

Benton township police reported Stanley Gunn, 650 South Crystal avenue, said his rowboat, valued at $100, was taken from outside his residence.

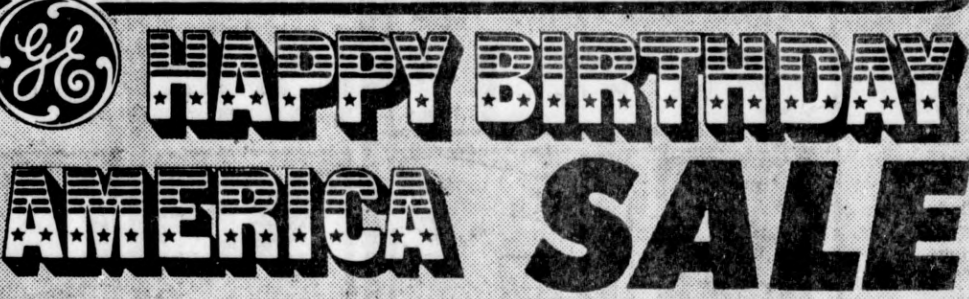

Benton Harbor police said a thief apparently was frightened away from a city home Tuesday and left the loot piled by a back door.

Police reported they were called to the home of Robert Fishburn, 1056 Pavone street, about 3 p.m. by an anonymous telephone tip of a burglary in progress. They found the thief had ransacked the home and piled valuables and a bag of food near the back door. Police reports did not identify the loot, but indicated nothing was taken.

A Detroit man found sleeping in his car which state troopers of the Benton Harbor post said was illegally parked on a freeway entrance ramp Tuesday, was arrested on a charge of carrying a concealed weapon, a pistol. Booked at the Berrien county jail was Ronald Secrest, 29, Detroit. Police said the car was found parked on Niles avenue entrance ramp to I-94 about 7:30 a.m.

BH Officials' Feud Spices Up Commission Meeting

By MIKE WYNGARDEN
Staff Writer

A feud involving Benton Harbor Mayor Charles Joseph and Commissioner Charles Yarbrough and City Atty. Yvonne Hughes continued last night with Joseph questioning operation of the attorney's office and Yarbrough challenging use of city funds for Joseph to print a newsletter.

The split between Joseph and Atty. Hughes has widened since she issued an opinion Jan. 5 that a $25,000 salary for Joseph is in violation of city charter and improper for several other reasons.

Garbage Scattered On 2 Roads

State police of the Benton Harbor post said garbage was found scattered on two roads north and south of the Twin Cities early today.

Troopers reported about seven bags of garbage were apparently thrown from a fast-moving vehicle along a mile stretch of Bundy road in Hagar township. Police determined the garbage came from the Stevensville area after checking the refuse.

A short time later, troopers said, refuse was reported on Linco road between Cleveland and Washington avenues, the border between Lincoln and Baroda townships. Troopers said the refuse was to have been picked up by Berrien county road crews this morning.

Labor Urges Public Support

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Much of the recent criticism of the Social Security system is part of a general campaign to discredit the system by "the same type political ideologues" who opposed enactment of Social Security in 1935, the AFL-CIO has charged.

But while denouncing those critics, the labor federation urged Congress to enact changes that would put the retirement system on a sound financial basis by raising the maximum tax paid by individuals. A resolution adopted here Tuesday by the executive council said that while responsible debate is needed, "distorted and false allegations that the system is bankrupt and doomed to collapse are malicious attempts to damage public support for the Social Security system."

challenged Joseph's use of city funds to pay printing costs of a newsletter Joseph published attacking the leader of a recall drive against him.

The bill, for approximately $25, was among a list of bills approved last night by the city commission.

The newsletter, scheduled to be distributed citywide last Wednesday, said Maurice Bishop, owner of All Time Pest Control Service in Benton Harbor, did $3,115 worth of pest control business with the city during the past year and a half.

Yarbrough challenged payment of the bill, asking whether the city commission authorized payment of the printing costs. Joseph responded that the commission did not have to authorize the expense and that it came out of the mayor-commission office budget.

The bill was among a host of topics covered during a prolonged, heated exchange between Joseph and Yarbrough and City Atty. Yvonne Hughes. The dispute, which surfaced repeatedly throughout the commission meeting, produced the following action by the commission:

— Denial of a request by Atty. Hughes for an administrative aide for the law department. She was directed to request a legal secretary, a lower classification than administrative aide.

— Approval of a secretary for the mayor-commission office.

— Direction of Atty. Hughes to submit a monthly report on the law department's cases and activities for the five months she has worked for the city.

— Questioning by Joseph of city billings for books for the law department.

The dispute was touched off by Atty. Hughes' request for an administrative aide to replace her secretary who resigned recently. She said she currently has a temporary secretary who can only work 2½ days a week.

Joseph moved that the request be denied, saying the law department was not structured to have an administrative aide and that to hire one would be against the city's wage and compensation plan which limits wages and classification of city employees.

Yarbrough said the law department should be granted whatever it needed to function properly and charged that Joseph was attempting "to punish Ms. Hughes."

"If you can't run a part-time mayor's office with a part-time administrative aide, how do you expect to run a full-time law department with a part-time secretary?" Yarbrough asked Joseph.

After voting to deny the administrative aide to Atty. Hughes, with Yarbrough and Commissioner Edmund Eaman dissenting, the commission directed Atty. Hughes to request a legal secretary and specify the wages for the position. An administrative aide earns a starting salary of $165 a week and a secretary earns $145 per week, according to Atty. Hughes.

Shortly after denying the administrative aide request, the commission voted unanimously to hire a secretary for the mayor-commission office. The secretary, according to Commissioner Barbara Huckaby who offered the resolution, would be responsible for typing, answering the phone and filing.

Joseph also questioned bills charged to the city's general fund for several law books for the law department. Joseph said the commission earlier had approved expense of $3,300 for law books while former City Atty. Carl Cooper was in office, and he asked Atty. Hughes if she had an inventory of those books. "I don't know," she replied, "not being a finance expert or a locator of books."

In other business: The commission voted to lift a moratorium on the writing of parking tickets for side street parking because the weather has improved. Acting City Manager Melvin Farne Jr. said parking tickets will again be issued beginning Friday.

Mayor Joseph presented certificates and pins to city employees who have served 5, 10, 15 and 20 years for the city. Presented certificates for "dedicated and loyal service to the city" were: Det. Sgt. Elmer Rhodes, police, 20 years; Louise Merrill, police secretary, 20 years; Sgt. Cyril I. Fuller, police, 15 years; Det. Sgt. Sam Watson, police, 15 years; Harold Frakes, public works, 15 years; Sgt. Marvin Fiedler, police, 15 years; Beatrice Pagewood, assessor's office, 10 years; Barbara Mackie, library, 10 years; Gloria Englehart, Community Development, 10 years; Patrolman Darryl Williamson, police, 5 years; Dennis Champion, fire, 5 years; James Peebles Jr., director of finance, 5 years, and

Det. Thomas Schadler, police, 5 years.

A resolution was approved by the commission to be sent to the U.S. Secretary of Labor asking for help in meeting the needs of the 30 per cent unemployed in Benton Harbor and to provide jobs for youths during the summer. Joseph offered the resolution and asked for "urgent" help in dealing with the matter which has become "critical."

The commission accepted the resignation of Commissioner Charles Shepherd from the city's building board of appeal. Shepherd said he was resigning the position because of his seat on the city commission.

Seven Ask Drug Charge Hearings

By DENNIS COGSWELL
Paw Paw Bureau

PAW PAW — Seven men arrested Monday night by area police agencies during a crack-down on alleged drug trafficking were arraigned yesterday in Van Buren Seventh district court.

All seven demanded preliminary examinations which were scheduled for Feb. 24. Van Buren Sheriff Richard Stump said the arrests grew out of an eight-month investigation and that all seven are accused of selling controlled substances to a police undercover officer.

In addition, Mrs. Lucille Hughes, 41, 411 Cass, Bangor, was arrested yesterday on a warrant issued by Prosecutor Frank Willis and demanded preliminary examination on a charge of obstructing police as they attempted to arrest one of the suspects, Roosevelt Sutton. Sutton, 23, also known as "Daddy-O" Williams, 501 East Linden, Hartford, is the son of Mrs. Hughes, according to deputies. He was arrested at her home after she allegedly told deputies he was not there.

She was ordered held on $1,000 bond pending a Feb. 24 hearing.

Arraigned yesterday were:

Sutton, on one count each of delivery of marijuana, PCP, and LSD. He was ordered held on $2,500 bond.

Myron Asa Salnave, 25, 305 Marion, Hartford, on a charge of delivery of marijuana. Bond was set at $1,500.

Donald James Tate, 18, 103 North Center, Hartford, on two counts of delivery of marijuana, and one of delivery of morphine. He was held in lieu of $4,000 bond.

Arthur C. Minshall, 30, route 2, Bangor, on one count each of delivery of marijuana, PCP, and LSD. He was released on his own recognizance.

Bruce J. Ezzell, 17, route 1, Hartford, on a charge of delivery of marijuana. He was released on his own recognizance.

Ronald G. Wrenfrow, 20, 428 East Main, Hartford, on two counts of delivery of marijuana. Bond was set at $2,000.

Dennis E. Zeek, 21, 133 Park avenue, South Haven, on a charge of delivery of marijuana. He was released on his own recognizance.

Also demanding preliminary examinations yesterday in other cases were:

Grand Junction, on a charge of breaking and entering the Bloomington elementary school on Feb. 14. Bond was set at $3,000.

Ronnie Trout, 18, CR-653, Gobles, on two counts of assault with a deadly weapon and two counts of malicious destruction of property. According to state police of the Paw Paw post, the charges grew out of complaints by David Knapp, Kalamazoo, and John Bettendender, Detroit, that their cars were hit by mailboxes thrown from the CR-653 overpass while traveling on I-94 Dec. 28. Both vehicles sustained damages, but neither man was hurt. Trout was ordered held on bond totaling $5,000.

George Haislip, 38, Ripley, Tenn., formerly of Decatur on a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses. The charge stems from a complaint by the Farm Bureau Insurance company that a man told them he lost a $120 workmen's compensation check which he had not, then cashed a replacement check issued by the company, according to Decatur police. Bond was set at $1,000.

Mark S. Ranney, 17, Fenton, on a charge of motor vehicle theft growing out of the larceny of a pick-up truck from Flint. Ranney, according to Decatur police, was arrested following a report of a suspicious person near the Harding's Market, Decatur, on Feb. 14. A check on a pick-up truck he was near showed it had been stolen earlier, police said. He was held on $1,000 bond.

Paper Blames

'Religious People'

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — An official South Vietnamese newspaper says "traitors disguised as religious people" are responsible for skyrocketing food prices and other economic ills in the country.

The article in Gai Phong, broadcast Tuesday on Radio Saigon, said a Catholic priest plotted "behind the statue of Christ" against authorities and led a 15-hour gunfight from a Saigon church last week before he and his group were captured.

Bombing Case Is Reopened

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Alabama's attorney general is reopening an investigation into a bombing at a Birmingham church 12 years ago that killed four young black girls, a newspaper says. The Birmingham Post-Herald, in today's editions, quoted sources saying Atty. Gen. Bill Baxley has the names of nine persons allegedly connected with the Sept. 15, 1963 bombing of the Sixteenth Street Baptist Church. Gary Thomas Rowe Jr., once an FBI informer, gave the names to Baxley before Rowe appeared before a U.S. Senate committee last December, the newspaper said. There were about 200 persons in the church when the bomb exploded.

MIDGLEY IN THE MOUNTAINS: Breath-taking views of the Rocky Mountains will be featured in Stan Midgley's "Colorado Chucklelogue," to be presented Feb. 22, 23 and 24 in the St. Joseph high school auditorium by the Twin City Camera Club.

Colorado Chucklelogue Is Next Camera Club Show

Stan Midgley, originator of the "chucklelogue," will bring the Centennial state of Colorado to the Twin City Camera Club.

The fifth in the club's 27th season of travelogues will be at 8 p.m. Sunday and 8 p.m. Monday and Tuesday in St. Joseph high school auditorium.

This "chucklelogue" are a combination of a highly humorous commentary spiced by trick photography.

Midgley, a graduate of Princeton university and a chemist, became noted as a photographer and narrator while enjoying his favorite hobbies of bike riding and photography. His introduction to travelogue filming came in 1946 when he entered a nationwide contest with a film on a bike trip through the Bryce-Zion-Grand Canyon region of Utah and Arizona and won first prize of $1,000.

His hobby then became his profession. Midgley has made over 1,000 professional platform appearances and 200 appearances on television. He is nationally famous for his humor and scenic effects and is often called the "Mark Twain of the camera."

His "Colorado Chucklelogue" will show Colorado during four seasons and include the Rocky Mountains, Pikes Peak, Grand Mesa, Royal Gorge, famous Colorado streams, the cities of Aspen, Vail, Steamboat Springs and the mile-high metropolis of Denver. Colorado was admitted to the union in 1876.

Paw Paw Bureau

PAW PAW — A Kalamazoo man was sentenced yesterday in Van Buren circuit court to serve from five to 15 years in state prison on a charge of unarmed robbery growing out of the 1974 theft of $900 from a South Haven supermarket.

Kelvin Kim Kiewit, 23, had pleaded guilty to the charge, which was reduced from armed robbery, Jan. 20, just prior to the time he had been scheduled to go on trial.

Disposition of the case had been delayed by a number of pre-trial motions. Kiewit had been accused of entering the A&P store at 514 Huron on July 11, 1974, armed with a handgun. He was taken into custody by police about an hour after the robbery.

The sentence was handed down by Probate Judge Meyer Warshawsky, acting circuit judge.

In other cases, Geraldine Bryant, 39, 76th street, Covert, was sentenced to serve six months in jail and placed on two years probation as the result of her guilty plea to a charge of felonious assault. The charge grew out of a complaint last Feb. 21 by Theodore Turner of Covert that he had been shot at while in a car. He was not injured.

In arraignments, Gerald W. Yates, 23, South Haven, pleaded guilty to a charge of larceny in a building in connection with the theft of about $30 from the Melody Lanes bowling alley, South Haven, last October.

James D. Hill, 19, Lawrence pleaded guilty to a charge of assaulting Lawrence Police Officer Dale Gribler as Gribler attempted to arrest him for driving under the influence of intoxicants Oct. 9.

Albert Lee Carr, 31, South Haven, pleaded innocent to a charge of breaking and entering a Covert township home Oct. 2.

U-M To Study Genetics

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — University of Michigan researchers plan to measure the rate of genetic change taking place in the human body in the hopes of obtaining more information about genetic defects, it was announced Monday. Scientists say one out of every 100 babies born in the United States has a genetic defect, a deformity caused by a mistake in the genetic code that controls the development of a human being.

OLD TIME GENERAL STORE: Mrs. Judy Kasang, new owner of the General Store in Ganges, holds toy horse inside store. She recently purchased store from Monroe Eaton. Mrs. Kasang, formerly of Douglas, now lives above the store with her children who help her operate it. Mrs. Kasang has expanded store's stock to include antiques, paintings, and handicraft items in addition to groceries and dry goods. She said she plans to remodel store to create an early 1900's atmosphere. (Becky Covey photo)

THE BRITISH soldier in the ranks was sternly disciplined and trained to fight for his king. He may have responded to commands something like a robot but he took pride in his unit. His pay was poor and promotion from the ranks was almost unheard of. His background was likely that of a criminal who accepted military service as an alternative to prison or one who chose a soldier's hard life over the misery of near starvation. The World Almanac notes.

ROYAL FISH

LONDON — Sturgeon, whose roe, or eggs, is washed and salted to make caviar, has been considered a royal fish since ancient times. In Roman days, it was bedecked with flowers and borne to the emperors' tables in grandeur. A law enacted in the reign of King Edward II made any sturgeon caught in England the property of the king.

ANNOUNCEMENT OF INTENT TO PERFORM FLOOD ELEVATION STUDY

The Federal Insurance Administration of the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development announced today that under authority of the National Flood Insurance Act of 1968, as amended, (P.L. 90-448) and the Flood Disaster Protection Act of 1973, (P.L. 93-234) it will fund a detailed study of the flood hazard areas in COVERT TOWNSHIP, VAN BUREN COUNTY, MI.

The study will be performed for the Federal Insurance Administration by Johnson & Anderson, Inc., Consulting Engineers, of Pontiac, Michigan.

The purpose of this study is to examine and evaluate the flood hazard areas in the community which are developed or which are likely to be developed and to determine flood elevations for those areas. Flood elevations will be used by the community to carry out the flood plain management objectives of the National Flood Insurance Program. They will also be used as the basis for determining the appropriate flood insurance premium rates applicable for new buildings and their contents, as well as determining the rates to be used for the second layer of insurance on existing buildings and contents.

This announcement is intended to notify all interested persons of the commencement of this study so that they may have an opportunity at a public meeting, soon to be announced, to bring any relevant facts and technical data concerning local flood hazards to the attention of the Chief Executive Officer of the community for forwarding to the appropriate representatives of the Federal Insurance Administration.

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE

DILLINGHAM REAL ESTATE, INC.
CITY LOCATION
Spacious 2 story brick home set on a ravine lot in one of St. Joe's best residential areas. The living area of more than 2400 sq. ft. offers 4 bedrooms, multiple baths, first floor family room, formal dining room, living room fireplace, basement and 2 car garage. Next summer you will enjoy the 25 ft. screened back porch overlooking the well landscaped yard. Call us for an appointment to see this well planned home with large rooms priced in mid 70's.

ST. JOSEPH CITY
If you are preparing for retirement, planning to move to a smaller home, then call us to see the remodeled 2 bedroom bungalow we have listed. Since it is situated on a ravine lot, lawn care is at a minimum. The living room, including a formal dining area, is carpeted and is 15 X 25. There is a full bath on the main floor and a bath with shower in the basement. Appliances included are stove, hood, disposal, dishwasher, compact, refrigerator, washer, dryer, garage door opener, and central air conditioning. It's really worth seeing. Priced in mid 30's.

Cancer Advisory Board Seats Sought

By JOHN STOWELL
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Sixteen labor, consumer and environmental organizations are urging President Ford to appoint their candidates to the government board on cancer research to broaden its perspective.

The campaign is believed to be the first organized effort to influence presidential appointments to any of the hundreds of official citizen groups advising the federal government.

The 16 organizations claim the present cancer advisory board has emphasized the "curative rather than preventive approach to cancer research" and that the panel lacks representatives of the "labor and public interest communities."

The panel, the National Cancer Advisory Board, advises the government's National Cancer Institute and the institute's expenditures of more than $600 million annually in cancer research.

The board is composed of 18 persons appointed to six-year terms by the president, plus five ex-officio members. The terms of six members expire this year, including that of Elmer H. Bobst, former drug company executive and a close friend of former President Richard Nixon.

The 16 groups are recommending 23 names for consideration to fill the expiring terms, which were for less than full terms to allow staggered terms to begin operating on the board.

The cancer advisory committee is one of 1,341 citizen panels set up to give recommendations to government agencies under the three-year-old Federal Advisory Committee Act. Specialists on that law say this is the first organized effort for a slate of candidates to any advisory panel.

The cancer board meets at least four times a year and its members are paid their expenses and a per diem fee.

The unprecedented drive has won the support of Sen. Lee Metcalf, D-Mont., chairman of a Senate government operations subcommittee and principal sponsor of the law. "These organizations should be commended and encouraged for their initiative," Metcalf said.

In a letter sent to Ford, the 16 groups said, "In our view, the National Cancer Advisory Board, as presently constituted, lacks balance in terms of disciplines represented. Moreover, while industry appears to be well represented, there is not corresponding representation from the labor and public interest communities."

"Troublesome, also, is that the allocation of resources within the National Cancer Institute has emphasized the curative rather than preventive approach to cancer research. Such emphasis is unfortunate, particularly in view of NCI's recent estimate that 90 per cent of human cancers are environmentally induced, many by chemicals in the environment."

Selection Complete

DETROIT (AP) — Jury selection has been completed in the federal court trial of a 39-year-old man accused of kidnapping and torturing convicted burglar John J. Whalen, the government's star witness in the trial of former governor and Supreme Court Justice John Swainson.

The jury was chosen Wednesday and the trial is expected to begin early next week for James Pulvirenti of Hamtramck, who allegedly kidnapped Whalen last Dec. 18, beat him, tortured him with burning cigars and shot him twice before releasing him the next day.
